RESOLUTION OF MANAGEMENT PROBLEMS IN SPATIO-ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT: CASE STUDY OF SELECTED DISTRICTS.

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments

SYNOPSIS

List of Tables

List of Figures

List of Maps

Chapter 1. PREVIEW

1.1 Introduction
1.2 Objectives of the study
1.3 Methodology
1.4 Validation
1.5 Contributions to research
1.6 Organisation of the thesis

Chapter 2. REVIEW OF LITERATURE

2.1 Introduction
2.2 Review of literature
2.3 Growth pole/growth centre theory
2.4 Other strategies
2.5 Conclusions

Chapter 3. COUNTRY STUDIES: SELECTED DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

3.1 General introduction
3.2 Some remarks
3.3 Historical perspectives and Indian approach to development

3.3.1 A historical review
3.3.2 Indian approach to regional development
3.3.3 Industrial development efforts for backward areas

3.4 Indian experience of development through the 5-year plans

3.4.1 Introduction
3.4.2 Development profile of India
3.4.3 Extent of inter-state imbalances
3.4.4 Disparities in sectoral indicators of development
3.5 China: rural industrialisation

3.5.1 Introduction
3.5.2 Regional disparities
3.5.3 Type of strategy used
3.5.4 Rural industrialisation
3.5.5 Recent changes
3.5.6 Conclusions

3.6 Nigeria: growth without distribution

3.6.1 Introduction
3.6.2 Impact of development planning
3.6.3 Structure of industry
3.6.4 Incentives and promotional policies
3.6.5 Indigenisation policy
3.6.6 Agriculture
3.6.7 Infrastructure development
3.6.8 The impact of petroleum, minerals and industrial development
3.6.9 Post colonial era and recent trends
3.6.10 Concluding remarks

3.7 Brazil: efficiency without social justice

3.7.1 Introduction
3.7.2 Regional development through the plans
3.7.3 Conclusions

Chapter 4. AN ALTERNATIVE FRAMEWORK FOR AREA MANAGEMENT AND PLANNING

4.1 Review of past experiences
4.2 An alternative approach
4.3 Towards an alternative strategy
4.4 Components of the alternative strategy

Chapter 5. PLANNING FOR BANKURA AND PURULIA DISTRICTS: CASE STUDIES

5.1 Bankura district profile
5.2 A 3-phase action plan for Bankura
5.3 Purulia district profile
5.4 A 3-phase action plan for Purulia
5.5 Some remarks

Chapter 6. ROLE OF DSS IN SPATIAL PLANNING: SOME CASE STUDIES

6.1 Decision Support Systems in spatial planning
6.2 A DSS for facility location
6.3 A DSS for micro-watershed management system

6.3.1 Introduction
6.3.2 The micro-watershed management system
6.3.3 Concluding remarks

6.4 Energy management system: an allocation model
6.5 DSS for infrastructure planning

6.5.1 Introduction
6.5.2 Health planning
6.5.3 Primary education planning
6.5.4 Drinking water for the problem villages

6.6 Conclusions

Chapter 7. SUMMARY AND CONCLUSIONS: FUTURE RESEARCH DIRECTIONS 223-228

7.1 Summary and conclusions
7.2 Future research directions.

References. R1-R15

Appendices. A1-A37

Appendix 1. Insufficiency of effective demand A1 - A3
2. Skills of Bankura district A4 - A7
3. Livestock resources of Bankura A8 - A10
4. Potential Small Scale Units in Bankura A11-A20
5. Land Utilisation Statistics of Bankura A21
6. Land Use of Purulia A22
7. A five year development plan for Teghari G.P. A23-A27
8. State of the art in MCLP A28-A31
9. Data for MWMS A32-A35
10. Data for energy management system. A36-A37