PREFACE

The present thesis submitted for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy (Science) of the University of Calcutta deals with "Studies on soil organic matter". The work recorded in the thesis has been done by the candidate partly in the Department of Macromolecules, I. A. C. S., Jadavpur and partly in the Physical Laboratory of the Department of Applied Chemistry, University College of Science and Technology, Calcutta.