ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my research guide Prof. (Dr.) V. Mathew Kurian, who has been a veteran critical social scientist of anthropocentric development pleading for alternative, for supporting and encouraging me to continuously think of the vulnerability of tribes and ecology. As the principal investigator of the Major Research Project of the University Grant Commission (UGC), I got an opportunity to work as a project fellow under him during the period February 2010 - November 2010. I consider the providence to work under Prof. (Dr.) V. Mathew Kurian became a second turning point of my life, career and research. I wish to thank him for his caring guidance and sharing many insights of adverse effects of anthropocentric and unprincipled development.

Let me also place on record my respectful special thanks to my research co-guide, Prof. (Dr.) M. Gopinath Reddy, for his advice and guidance throughout the study. Prof. (Dr.) M.G. Reddy has been a very kind academician and professor par excellence. I learned many things from his benevolence, mastery and command on the subject. Prof. Gopinath Reddy has helped me a lot in academics and personal life. I thankfully acknowledge his unique services.

I am very thankful to Prof. (Dr.) A.M. Thomas, Director of School of International Relations and Politics, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam, who gave me the opportunity, support and positive comments to complete my work at the research centre. I would like to convey my sincere thanks to Prof. (Dr.) S. Galab, Director of Centre for Economic and Social Studies, Hyderabad, who gave me the opportunity and critical comments to complete my work at the research centre.

I am thankful to the Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR), New Delhi which provided me the ICSSR Institutional Doctoral Fellowship through the CESS Hyderabad, between June 2013 and June 2016 without which this study would not have got completed.

I am grateful to Prof. A.A Baby, Prof. K.M Seethi, Prof. E. Revathy, Dr. Jeena T Srinivasan, Dr. K. Suri Babu, Dr. C. Vinodan, and all other members of faculty of the SIRP, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam and the CESS, Hyderabad, who gave me good feedback and suggestions. My sincere thanks to all of them.

I am very thankful to Dr. Wolfgang Hoeschele (Trumann State University, USA), Prof. Joy Joseph, K.G. College, Pampady, Kottayam, Dr. B. Ekbal, Former Vice Chancellor, University of Kerala, Dr. Richard Scaria, Assistant Professor, Government College, Chittoor, Prof. M.P. Sujatha, Dr. S. Sandeep, Soil Science Division at the Kerala Forest Research Institute, Peecchi, as well as Dr. Kumaran and Dr. Hermon (NIRD&PR), Hyderabad, who helped me at the various stages of the study. I am thankful to all of them.

I would like to convey my deep gratitude to the services extended by the various libraries at the Mahatma Gandhi University, Centre for Economic and Social Studies, Hyderabad, Kerala Forest Research Institute, Thrissur, Centre for Development Studies (CDS), Trivandrum, Kerala Institute of Local Administration, Thrissur, and National Institute of Rural Development and Panchayati Raj (NIRD&PR), Hyderabad. I extend my sincere thanks to my friends in Attappady, Centre for Economic and Social Studies and Mahatma Gandhi University.

This thesis would never have got materialised without the support of my parents, who have always been a constant and unique source of motivation to persuade my work accepting the risks. A special thanks to all my family members, Jisha, Shajil, Sivadas, Vishnu, Sivani, Reshma, and Akshithu for their perennial love and gestures of encouragement.
