ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am sincerely grateful to my Supervisor Prof. T. Lanusosang, whose expertise and generous advice, guidance, patience, support and encouragements made it possible for me to finish my research work.

I extend my gratitude to Prof. M.S. Rawat, HOD Department of Geography, all teaching and non-teaching staff of the department for their advice and support. Special thanks to Dr. Toiho, Senior Lab Technician, for his advice, ideas and providing me with significant amount of materials of the study area.

I am thankful to all the Respondents, Village Chiefs, Village Council Chairman, Village Development Boards Members, Village elders and Goanboras of the study area for their generous and valuable information, without which this work would not have been materialised. I also thank all the host families of my study area, for their kind hospitality.

I am grateful to the University Grand Commission for awarding me fellowship under Rajiv Gandhi National Fellowship (RGNF), which has helped me immensely in my work.

I would like to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to all my fellow scholars from the Department, Men’s Research Scholars Hostel Kamnoi and Women’s Research Scholars Hostel Reiliki, Nagaland University, Lumami for their encouragements, help and support. I also like to thank my friends Chandrashekhar Azad Vishwakarma, Research Scholar, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi and Somnath Thakur, Research Scholar, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for their guidance and help in remote sensing and GIS section of the research work.
My special thanks to my family members for their constant moral and prayer support, motivation and encouragement the whole time of my research work.

The completion of this thesis could not have been possible without the participation and support of many people whose names may not be mentioned here. Their contributions are genuinely appreciated and gratefully acknowledged.

Above all, deepest gratitude and praises to almighty God; the giver of wisdom and knowledge, for His faithfulness and unceasing blessings throughout my research work.
