ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am very humble in writing this part of thesis. First and foremost, I am grateful to my mentor Prof. (Dr). Muzaffar H. Assadi, CProfessor of Department of Studies in Political Science, University of Mysore, for accepting to guide me and constantly encouraging and supporting me in completing this thesis. I must mention here that, his immense knowledge on the subject has benefited many of his students like me, and I always felt proud to associate with such an expert who has multi-dimensional approach to each subject. As he is an authority himself on peasants’ moment and agrarian issues, discussing on such subjects and to articulate in this thesis has made such an ease.

I am also grateful to Dr. G.T. Ramachandrappa, Professor and Chairman, Department of Studies in Political Science, University of Mysore, and Prof. Krishna R Hombal, Assistant Professor, Department of Studies in Political Science, University of Mysore, for their unconditional support at each and every stage of my research. I sincerely thank all staff members of Department of Studies in Political Science, University of Mysore, for their timely support and assistance during the research work.

I am also thankful to all officers working with State Bank of Mysore and ICICI Bank who helped me with their knowledge and expertise in the subject and for the cooperation extended to me, especially Sri. K.N. Shivalingaiah, Lead Bank Manager, State Bank of Mysore, for sharing necessary information and his valuable guidance.

I remember my family with gratitude, for their moral support I received from them. For my parents Mr. G H Sriranga and Mrs. Rajamma for their constant support. My wife Manjula and kids Daman J Ranga and Deywik J Rangawith their constant love and encouragement.

I would also like to acknowledge the support and contribution of those whose names have not been mentioned here, but who have played role in accomplishing this thesis.
