Acknowledgements

With a profound sense of gratitude, I would like to acknowledge my indebtedness to all those who have helped me in the preparation and the completion of this research work.

I am deeply grateful to Dr. T. M. George, my research guide and mentor. No words can convey my heart-felt gratitude to him who led me patiently through the hard work of this noble venture. Instilling confidence and tranquility coupled with love and compassion, he led me to new horizons of knowledge with patience until I reached my destination, in spite of his high academic responsibilities and priestly duties.

I am equally indebted to Dr. P. Maharajan; Head of the department - School of Gandhian Thought and Development Studies- Dean of Social Sciences and a member of the syndicate, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam for his moral support and courage right from the beginning.

No less sincere is my gratitude to Dr. P. K. Sivanandan I.A.S (Retd), Chairman Kerala State Commission for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes for his support and valuable suggestions from time to time.

I owe a debt of gratitude to Dr. P. S. Mohanakumar, Reader and Head of the Post Graduate and Research Department of Economics, Sree Sankara College Kalady who strengthened my grasp of the topic and spared his expertise in research methodology for the realization of this work. Without him this work would not have been completed.

I would be failing in my duty if I do not express my gratitude to Dr. H. Sadhasivan Pillai, Principal Devaswom Board College Keezhoor, whose support and love were the driving forces behind this work, for guiding my thoughts and for encouraging me to move forward during critical times.
Dr. Sabu Varghese, Research Officer, District Planning Office, Kasargod, is owed a word of gratitude for his unconditional support, encouragement and words of wisdom, which were an unfailing source of inspiration for this academic pursuit.

Dr. Joy Jacob, Reader Department of Statistics St. Thomas College Pala, my colleague and dearest friend, deserves a debt of gratitude for rendering services at various stages of the collection, analysis and interpretation of data.

I would also like to thank Dr. Benny Kurian, Department of Statistics St. Thomas College Pala, for his direction and help at the beginning of this study.

Professor V. O. Chummar of the Department of English St. Thomas College Pala who made me fall in love with the English Language and dote on words helped me a lot and I will ever remain thankful to him.

To all those people who have directly or indirectly helped me at various stages of this endeavor, let me express my deep feelings of gratitude.

Last but not least, I owe it to the members of my family, my friends and officials to be grateful to them for their incessant encouragement and relentless help.

Above all, I lift my heart in prayerful gratitude to God Almighty and to the guiding memories of my ancestors who have sustained me through this arduous task.

P. P. Chandrasekhara Pillai