ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The research involved in this dissertation had indebted me to a number of people whose invaluable help was always appreciable. Foremost among them is my Supervisor Dr. Suryasikha Pathak, who acted as a continued source of inspiration and guidance. I am greatly indebted to her for all the help I received. It was a privilege to work under her.

I am grateful to faculty of the Department of History, especially, Prof. Sajal Nag, Prof. Alok Tripathi, Eswar Rao, James Guite and Habibullah for their suggestion and comment, which were extremely beneficial to me. I am especially thankful to Devashree Bhattacharjee, Research Scholar, Assam University for rendering assistance in various ways in completing my thesis.

I shall be failing my duties, by not mentioning the valuable assistance rendered to me by the staff of the Cachar District Record Room, Silchar; Surma Valley Branch Indian Tea Association (SVBITA), Silchar; Assam University Library, Silchar; Guwahati State Archives, Guwahati; Indian Council of Historical Research (ICHR), Guwahati; Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR), Shillong; National Library, Kolkata; Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR), Kolkata; West Bengal State Archives, Kolkata; National Archives, Delhi; Jawaharlal Nehru University Library, Delhi. I am most grateful to all of them for their invaluable help whenever I visited these libraries for my research work.

I am also thankful to Mr. D Dutta, official SVBITA, Mr. Baidya, official Guwahati State Archives, Guwahati and Soumitra Chatterjee, official National Library, Kolkata, greatly helped me for accessing the valuable materials for my thesis. I am also thankful to the persons whom I have conducted interviews.

My grateful acknowledgment goes to my mother and elders for their constant support and encouragement. I am also thankful to my wife Nibhu for providing me all kinds of inspiration and assistance in completing the work in time.
While expressing my gratitude to everyone, I take the responsibility of any error, which might have occurred in this dissertation.
