ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am firstly thankful to Allah Almighty Who bestowed me everything balanced in life, and for I could carry out the research in the present form; without His permission the task would have been just a dream that never comes true.

I am cardinally thankful to my guide, honorable Professor Dr. S. K. B. Patil for the unforgettable and ideal supervision of the research, and also grateful to Dr. (Lt. Col. Ret) S. K. Mohanty, Dean CIMS, Bilaspur and Dr. D. K. Shrivastava of CIMS, Bilaspur. My thanks are due to the honorable Chancellor, and Vice-Chancellor sir of the MATS University, and the Hospital Superintendent and doctors of Maharani Hospital, Jagdalpur, Bastar. I am also thankful to the university Registrar, Exam Controller and teachers, especially Dr. G. K. Sahu sir, Dr. Jaya Rathore madam, and Dr. Shilpi Bhattacharya madam. I extend my due thanks to Dr. Prashant Nigam, and Dr V. K. Gupta Department of Biochemistry, CIMS, Bilaspur for their timely help.

My parents are my back bone who gave me every possible care and support to their extent since my arrival in womb to this scientific goal and so on; I am and will ever be thankful to them and can never pay for their great obligations in return howsoever long I could do care for them. My beloved wife, Farah Aziz Khan, is a great support in all aspects of my life whether it is moral, scientific, mental, or physical; writing the thesis in my fistular disease was very painful effort that are very memorable moments with her full help; I am heartily thankful to her, and pray Allah to bestow her best success here and Hereafter, Aamen. I am very thankful to all my brothers, Mohammad Ayoub Khan, Abdul Rasheed Khan, and Mohammad Faraz Khan, parents-in-law, and brothers-in-law especially Bilal Aziz, Raqib Mirza, and Talib Mirza for their unforgettable supports they imparted in many important parts of the research time to time. At Last but not the least, my heartily thanks are due to the technicians, attenders, and nurses of Maharani Hospital, Jagdalpur, Bastar who helped me a lot in sample collection for the research.
