ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the outset, I wish to express my deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to Dr. S. Shanmugasundaram, Retd. Professor and Head, Dept. of Commerce, Periyar University, Salem, for his unstinted encouragement and his constant valuable guidance in the preparation of this thesis. But for his help, I would not have completed this thesis.

I have to place on record my sincere thanks to the Joint Registrar, Assistant Director, Deputy Registrar and their colleagues and members of the various co-operative societies, who have extended their valuable help and cooperation by providing the data required for the analysis and the study of my research work.

I am highly thankful to the Principals of Government Arts College for Women, Salem, who have not only permitted me to pursue my research studies but also encouraged me to complete my thesis in time.

It is Dr. N. Pankaja, Professor and Head (Retd), Dept. of Mathematics, Sri Parasakthi College for Women, Courtallam, who not only inspired me to carry out the research work vigorously but also has gone through the thesis in detail. Her invaluable help in analyzing and interpreting the data has been of great advantage to my present thesis. I wish to express my whole-hearted thanks to her for the completion of the work in a befitting way. Equally, the suggestions, guidance and interpretations put forward by Dr. M. D. Sampath, Director of Epigraphy (Retd), Archaeological Survey of India, Mysore, has helped me considerably to bring out my thesis in a cohesive manner.

My sincere thanks are due to the esteemed Professor Dr. P. Singaravel, Professor and Head, Department of commerce, Kandaswami Kandar's College, Velur, Dr. Nandhakumar, Professor of Statistics, Sri Sowdeswari College of Arts and Science, Salem, Sri P. Madhu, Professor of Tamil, Sri V. Thirumurugan, Senior Lecturer, Department of Geology, and to my better-half Sri V. Sridharan, Selection Grade Lecturer, Department of Geology, Government Arts College, Salem-7, for their continued encouragement and support to complete my thesis.

I am also thankful to my colleagues in the Government Arts College for Women, Salem-8, for their constant encouragement and help while preparing this thesis.
