ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Every mission needs a spirit of dedication and hard work, but more than anything else it needs proper guidance, working atmosphere and mental support. The period associated with the completion of this dissertation has been of creative illuminations, academic and personal challenges, and of help from various sources. Words sometimes cannot express one's innermost feelings regarding people to whom one is beholden. It has been my great privilege to acknowledge with respectful gratitude, the keen valuable and ever available guidance rendered to me by my esteemed benevolent teacher and my mentor Prof. (Dr.) Jagbir Singh, Department of Zoology, Punjabi University, Patiala. It is because of his kindness, keen interest, constructive criticism, encouragement, inspiration and valuable suggestions that helped to shape my perceptions and insights. Moreover being one of his students, I have learned to look at things in a much better way which in the long run will not only help me being professional, but will also enrich my personal life.

A research problem of this size and duration could not have been completed without support and encouragement of number of people. It is impossible for me to mention all of the people who, in one way to the another, have contributed for the completion of this research work, but they all have my sincerest gratitude.

I feel greatly fortunate in having this opportunity to express my gratitude to Prof. (Dr.) Devinder Singh, Head, Department of Zoology, Punjabi University, Patiala for the facilities provided to me to carry out this work.
I owe a special word of thanks to Dr. V.K. Walia, Department of Zoology, Panjab University, Chandigarh for his assistance and timely suggestions at every step during last three years.

I am highly indebted to my beloved parents for their love and affections, constant encouragement, moral support and financial assistance. Without their blessing I could never have completed this project. I have no words to convey my heartiest thanks to them.

No amount of words can express my gratitude and thanks to some of my friends for their constant encouragement, supportive attitude, ever available help and valuable suggestions from time to time throughout the tenure of my research work.

I extend my sincere thanks to Mr. Dheeraj Kumar (Universal Photostat & Computers, Opp. Punjabi University, Patiala) for neat, meticulous and efficient typing of this manuscript.
