First of all, I would like to thank Almighty God, for having given me an opportunity to do this research work and also for doing this work in various ways to finalize the thesis in time without any difficulties and also for arranging time to do it.

I owe my genuine gratitude to my beloved Guide Dr. R. SORNARAJ, Reader and Research Co-ordinator, Research Department of Zoology, Kamaraj College, Thoothukudi, for his marvelous guidance right from the selection of the topic, vigilant scrutiny, unremitting input and patience through successive drafts and his assiduous comments, precious encouragement. His energetic support and guidance in taking up the task of data collection improved the focus of the study. I deem it a great privilege to work under his guidance.

I sincerely give thanks to my co-guide Dr. R. James, Reader, Research Department of Zoology, V.O.Chidambaram College, Thoothukudi for his timely help, valuable suggestions during the execution of my research work. I extend my gratitude and thanks to Dr. A.J.A. Ranjit Singh, Head, Department of Biology, Sri Paramakalyani College, Alwarkurichi for his unrelenting encouragement and suggestions rendered by him throughout the research period.

I would like to present my deepest and heartfelt thanks to Prof. S. Stephen Dharmaraj, M.A., M.Phil., former Principal and Head, Department of English, Kamaraj College, Thoothukudi, for his tireless proof reading of the thesis. I am furthermore indebted to Dr. V. Arinathan, Head, Department of Botany, Kamaraj College, Thoothukudi, for his help and tireless cooperation and advice for the successful completion of this work.

I crave to articulate my gratitude to my affectionate parents Mr. A. Arulraj and Mrs. A. Christal Vijaya, for their cheerful words and advice, which directed my study and also my life to a point of success. I also thank my sister Mrs. A. Anitha, M.Sc., M.Phil., Lecturer in physics, New Prince Shree Bhavani College of Engineering and Technology, Gowrivakkam, Chennai -73, and her husband Mr. V. Albert B.E., Senior Engineer, VESTAS, Chennai, who provided meaningful comments throughout the research period for the successful completion.

My thanks are due to my twin sister Ms. A. Asha Jeya, M.Sc., M.Phil., D.C.A., Lecturer in Science and Humanities, PMR Institute of Technology, Adayalmpattu, Chennai-95, my brothers, Mr. A. Alwin Reagan, B.Sc., P.G.D.C.A., and Mr. A. Alfind Paulfrit, M.Sc., and my younger sister, Ms. A. Abiya, M.Com., M.Phil., P.G.D.C.A., M.B.A., Lecturer in Commerce, New Prince Shree Bhavani College of Arts and Science, Gowrivakkam, Chennai 73, for their accessible unstinting support during the period of my research work.

I would like to place on record my pleasure for the sincere efforts put in by Prof. M. Muniappan, M.Sc., M.Phil., Head, Department of Mathematics, Kamaraj College, Thoothukudi for the excellent help in the statistical work, in preparation of the thesis. I also express my sincere thanks to Dr. G. Narayanaswamy, for taking photographs relevant to the thesis work. The various microbiological work and eye microbiological work were successfully carried out in cooperation with Dr. N. Jeyakumar, Head, Microbiology Department, Kamaraj College, Thoothukudi and Dr. Jayahar Bharathi, Microbiologist, Arvind eye hospital, Tirunelveli. My sense of gratitude and thanks are due for their timely help and co-operation.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr. P. NandaKumar, MBBS, Dr. J. Uma, MBBS, DGO of Thoothukudi, who provided me with a lot of clinical knowledge and ideas for interpretation of data. Dr. Sugumaran, Ophthalmologist of Thoothukudi, who extended his help to identify ophthalmic disorders found among workers. I extend my enthusiastic and sincere thanks to all these doctors.

I extend my sincere thanks to University Grants Commission, Government of India, New Delhi, which had financed the project entitled “Investigation on the physiological, Hematological and Neurological problems in the saltpan workers of Thoothukudi area”. I am also grateful to the staff of Salt Department, Government of India, Thoothukudi who helped numerous ways in this study.

Last but not the least I express my thanks to the different owners of saltpans and all the workers for sharing their experiences and views during the data collection process and giving their full co-operation for the successful completion of this project.

A.A. Jaisheeba