ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am unable to find within the orbit of words a better substitute for the word 'gratitude' which conveys the magnitude of expression of gratification that could be more appropriate to express my indebtedness to Dr. Ramesh Chandra Mehrotra, Head of the Department of Linguistics at Ravishankar University. His help, guidance, directives, and affectionate touch have shown me proper path leading to my endeavour to collect something of this vast subject of Linguistics.

I am thankful to my other teachers also, viz. Dr. G.P. Srivastava, Dr. H.L. Shukla, and Dr. M.L. Yadu for their encouragement that I received during my research. The environment within the precinct of the Department of Linguistics is so congenial and conducive that it gives unabounding inspiration to work with devotion. I thank the other members of the department too for their cooperation.

The constant stimulation and moral support from my parents needs no mention.
