ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

An endeavor in any field needs inspiration, guidance and moral support at every step. So I must preface my thesis by expressing sincere and deep gratitude to those who made it possible for me to complete my research work.

First of all, I am tremendously grateful to the Lord Almighty, Who always strengthened me and showered His blessings on me to complete my task in time.

It became possible only with the parental attitude of my Hon’ble guide Dr. (Mrs.) Paramjit Nanda, Professor, Punjab School of Economics, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar that I could take up the stupendous work and complete it in time. She elaborated the tough & critical subject precisely and made it easy for me to understand, analyse and interpret. I am unable to find appropriate words for expressing my gratitude & gratefulness for the benefaction bestowed upon me by her. Her rare blend of intellect, flexibility, innovation and attention had been invaluable for me.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to esteemed Dr. P.S. Raikhy, Prof. (Retd.), Punjab School of Economics, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar. His expert advice & tips from time to time were of great value in solving my conceptual problems. On my uttering words of thankfulness to him, he always smiled very gently & fatherly.

Dr. Vikram Chadha, Prof. and Head, Punjab School of Economics, Guru Nanak Dev University Amritsar always remained helpful for large & small tasks connected with my research work, for which I feel indebted & obliged.

My special thanks are due to Prof. Amarjit Singh Sethi and Dr. Sunil Kumar, Associate Professor, Punjab School of Economics, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, for their help in application of quantitative techniques.

I am also thankful to Dr. Kusum Narula, Acting Principal, A. S. College for Women, Khanna and Dr. Ramna Singla, Head of Economics Department for always encouraging me to complete this work.

The diligent staff of well stocked & well managed libraries of Guru Nanak Dev University Amritsar, Punjab University Chandigarh, Kurukshetra University,
Kurukshetra, Central Statistical Organization Library, Rattan Tata Library, Delhi School of Economics, Delhi University, deserve profuse appreciation for the helping attitude and the assistance provided to me in my research work, even by going beyond an extra mile. Mr. Rakesh Mahindra, Librarian, Department of Law, Panjab University, Chandigarh deserves special thanks for the invaluable assistance provided to me while at Chandigarh.

My beloved husband Mr. Ganesh Chhabra feels shy of my acknowledgement for the untiring pains taken by him in standing with me on all the odd or even occasions and while accompanying me to places from where I collected the requisite data. He is the one whose encouragement gave me the strength and gentleness provided me the comfort, which I needed the most. I express my greatest gratitude to Shri K.L. Chhabra, my father-in-law who without hesitation and willingly spared me from my family responsibilities to go ahead with the research work. To avoid further embarrassment to them and in view of lack of words at my command, I have dedicated this research work to both of them.

My sister-in-law Dr. Indu Chhabra, Chairperson, Department of Computer Science, Panjab University, Chandigarh & her husband Dr. Gopal Arora, Judicial Magistrate, Rajpura remained always a source of inspiration to me.

It is my honour & privilege to thank my parents, my sisters and my brother for their love, encouraging words & sincere prayers for completing the task.

The plentiful loving thanks go to my son Divyam whose nesting-time has been stolen by me with a heavy heart for this work. All the joys he has provided to me & all the hopes he implanted in me, exhorted me to complete this work so as to give him his due at the earliest.

I am also thankful to the Computer Science Department of Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar for computational assistance.

Last, but not least, I am also thankful to Computer Hut, Kabir Park, Amritsar for formatting and printing this thesis with great care.

Dated: (Rajni Narula)