Acknowledgements

I would like to thank a few persons who rendered a helping hand for the completion of this work.

My heartfelt thanks to my supervising teacher, Dr. Joseph Kachapilly, who patiently endured my many vagaries during the preparation and correction of this dissertation. Without his sincerity and friendship, this undertaking would have been impossible.

My special thanks goes to the staff of the National Library, especially to Mr. Ashim Mukherji and Mrs. Mariam Koshy whose courtesy helped me through the collections and acquisition of primary and critical materials on Toru Dutt. Mr. and Mrs. N J Antony are remembered with affection. The meeting with Mr. Pratul Chunder Dutt (endearingly called Nana) in Calcutta is nostalgic. His grandfather Charoo Chunder was the first cousin of our poet, Toru Dutt. His enthusiasm and kindness allowed us (Biju and Little Maximillan) to visit the townhouse of the poet at No.12, Manicktollah Street in the city. We also visited the grave-site of the Dutt family.

The staff of ASRC (American Studies Research Centre), Hostel and Library graciously provided accommodation and facilities to gather in Emily Dickinson criticism. The help extended by Dr. Issac Sequiera and Mr. Reddy (the librarian) is warmly remembered. We (Mother and Little Patrick) spent a very friendly and pleasurable winter at this centre.

Dr. Rajan Varghese (Principal), Prof. P J Joseph(Retd.), Prof. B. Valsalakumari, Mr. Kuruvilla (librarian) and the library staff of U C College are fondly remembered.

My friend Sunil needs special commendation and thanks for his dedication in doing the computer work. My friends Issac and Agnes are remembered with endearing warmth for their support and encouragement.
