ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This academic endeavour of mine would not have been possible without the help of a number of people, who with their kind co-operation, active supervision and steadfast support have made this research work a reality.

I am extremely grateful to my esteemed supervisor Prof. Sandwip K. Das whose able guidance, intellectual ingenuity and avid suggestions helped me in completing this academic exercise. I express my deep gratitude to Prof. Sarmila Banerjee for her invaluable suggestions.

Having been grown with the rural spectacular natural heritages and the extent of massive poverty from my childhood, have inspired me to get a deep research into the concerned topic for M.Phil. Dissertation. May God relieve his (My Father) pain who shaped my destination in a positive direction with his limited and constrained resources and sufferings! I won’t have been arrived at this good university without the constant moral support of Srigovinda Sir (Reader in Economics), Gita Madam and Sangeeta Madam.

I am thankful to Dr. Monica Das (Gargi College, DU) for her kind help in searching for data and some important information. I am highly indebted to Parth Bhai and Manishda (NITIE) for guiding me in the right direction to collect the data and to proceed for the data work.

My friends (Pranta, Chandan, Siba, Pradip, Prakash, Saroj, Suchi, Hari, Beraji, Nikhil, Suja, Gitka, Richa) and seniors (Subrat Bhai, Prasanta Bhai, Subash Bhai, Jayant Bhai, Bibek Bhai[sadu], Amulya Bhai, Dev Bhai, Pawan Bhai and Anindyada) have been constant source of moral support and immense encouragement throughout this exercise.

Having been privileged in receiving such love and support, I own responsibility for all the errors or omissions that might have crept in the work.
