ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This research work is the feeling of a manifold indebtedness that I owe to many. The debt that I owe the most is to Prof. K. Warikoo, my teacher and supervisor, who has been there in every step of my work. He introduced me to Economic Reforms in Kazakhstan, guided this research with unusual interest, patience and affection, and has always been a source of inspiration to me for dedicated research and study. I am profoundly grateful and deeply indebted to him for helping me in channelizing my thoughts and giving a definite form and shape to my ideas.

I offer my sincere gratitude to our Chairperson and Dean. I express my deepest gratitude to Dr. Sarad K. Soni and Dr. Mahesh R. Debata for their academic support, insights and constant guidance. I convey my heartfelt gratitude to all my other teachers for their guidance and good wishes.

I must express my greatest thanks to the staffs of my Centre, School, Jawaharlal Nehru University Central Library, United Nation Information Centre Library, Institute of Defence and Strategic Analysis Library, Teen Murti Nehru Memorial Library, Sapru House Library and Central Secretariat Library for their help in the process of my research.

My heartfelt gratitude to the Indian Embassy at Astana in Kazakhstan and Consular Office at Almaty without whose help my field trip would not have been possible. I would also like to take this opportunity to thank Amb. Ashok Sajjanhar, Mr. D. Manjunath, Mr. Anand Akhori and Mr. V. Parameswaran of the Indian Embassy at Astana and Indian Representative Office at Almaty, who had been a pillar of strength for me in Kazakhstan. I also express my gratitude to all the Professors, experts, scholars and the officials in Kazakhstan whom I met during my stay in Kazakhstan. Their valuable inputs helped me to refine my work.
I am especially grateful to the Embassy of Kazakhstan in India, particularly, to the then Amb. Kairat Umarov and Nurgali Arystanov for their valuable help during my field trip to Kazakhstan and in my research work.

My deep gratitude is also extended to my parents, nephew, Niece and other family members for their constant support and emotional boost. I am deeply grateful to my friends, Angira and Baikuntha for their cooperation and assistance, which has been a great source of strength for me during the preparation of this research work. I also acknowledge the last minute help and cooperation provided by my friend Manas (Barik). I am also thankful to my dear and close friends Siba, Prasant (Sahoo), Rama, Bibhu Bhai, Dhiru Bhai, Ram krishna, Prakash (Sahoo), Gaurav, Vikash, Ishwar, Wahid, Samim, Devendra, Saurav, Manash (Mishra), Lopa, Mahamaya, Silpa, Jeevan, Sabyasachi, Duryadhana, Tusar, Prakash (Pattnaik), Chiky, Prasant (Sahu), Sapan, Mantu and Bapuni for their continuous help, suggestions and moral boost.

Gatikrushna Mahanta