ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

"Human interdependence has been growing since time immemorial. Alone, I would not have been possible to make this thesis work complete see the dawn of this day."

It is great pleasure to acknowledge those who inspired and encouraged me to perform this Herculean task, without whom this work would not have been accomplished.

No words may articulate to acknowledge didactic guidance rendered by my guide Prof. (Dr.) Ku. P. N. Roodkar, Professor and Head post graduate teaching Department of Home Science, Amravati University, Amravati, during the tenure of my research work. I sincerely expressed my boundless reverence to her for her excellent guidance, moral support, thoughtful criticism and constant motivation. I offer my sincerest and heartfelt regards and thanks to her.

I take this opportunity to thank Dr. Vandan Mohod and Mrs. Dr. Veena Mohod Akola, They are always been a source of inspiration for me.

It goes without saying that the contribution of friends matters a lot in according such arduous tasks. I would like to thanks Ku. Sonal Degwekar for their timely help and cooperation is highly appreciated.

Countless images flash through my mind when I remember the hard phase of time I had been through during my research work and here my parent, brothers and sisters Dr. Ujwala and Dr. Ashili deserve a special mention. I have no words to put forth my deep sense of gratitude to all of them who constantly inspired me to achieve this hallmark.

I also thankful to Prof. Dr. Rajesh Singh Head P.G.T.D. of Statistics Amravati University, Amravati for their valuable help during statistical analysis.

Thanks are due to the librarians of the following institutions 1) S. N. D. T. Women's University, Mumbai, 2) Amravati University, Amravati, 3) Dr. Punjaibrao Deshmukh Krishi Vidyapeeth, Akola, 4) District Rural Development Agencies, Amravati, 5) Collector Office Amravati. 6) M.S. University library Wadodara. The gigantic work would not have materialized without their help and cooperation. The affable attitude of there will always remain pleasant part of my memory.

This thesis would not have been written without any of you.

I also wish to acknowledge my sincere thanks to the beneficiaries under Indira Awaas yojana from selected villages of Amravati district, who have extended cooperation in my mission wholeheartedly by helpfully responding and providing valuable information in terms of data required in connection with present study in their busy schedule.

Finally to the blessings of my parent, Shri Swami Samartha and God above I offer thanks and dedicated the results of my efforts.
