At the very outset, I bow my head with reverence to the Supreme God, by whose blessings I have been able to cross another milestone of my life. I thank the Providence, for bestowing upon me, the opportunity to engage myself in research and I am sure that almighty will guide my intellect which would enable me to make meaningful contributions to society.

I feel highly privileged to express my sincere regards and gratitude to my Supervisor Prof. Satwanti Kapoor for her dynamic leadership, competent guidance and meticulous suggestions during the course of my work. Her commitment to work stimulated and encouraged me to work even harder and hence also developed a right attitude not only for the research work but also as a managed human being. This thesis grew out of a series of discussions with her. Her interpretations on chapter drafts are themselves a course in critical thought upon which I will always draw. She has not only guided me throughout the phase of my Ph.D but also shaped my efforts, personality and thinking in a manner that will always direct me towards a happy life. She herself being a hard working and focused person has inculcated in me an attitude to face every challenge in high spirits. She came to my rescue whenever and wherever I got stucked during the course of my journey.

Words cannot adequately express my indebtedness and gratitude to members of my advisory committee Prof Anup Kumar Kapoor and Dr. GK Kshatriya, for their invaluable suggestions, unconditional support and encouragement throughout the course of my research. I owe my special thanks to Prof. Kapoor for his constant guidance, encouraging attitude and positive approach which always enhancing my learning abilities.

I would earnestly thank Prof PK Ghosh (former Head of the Department) for giving permission to open the department at 7:00 in the morning only for my field work and Prof. SL Malik, Head of the Department for helping me out with the availability of every possible facility in the department.

I owe my sincere thanks Dr Renu Tyagi for giving me an opportunity to work in her project during initial stage of my research and teach me. She not only groomed me academically but also helped me to grow to be a better person.

I want to thank Dr. Rashmi Sinha, Dr. Mary Grace, Dr. Shaila Bhardwaj, Dr. Suman Dua, Kiran and Anumeha for their support knowledge, experienced suggestions and advice concerning my research.
My joys and sorrows during my journey are best experienced and shared with my labmates and friends Dr. Mungreiphy, Dr. Shilpi Gupta, Monika, Pankhuri, Prerna, Deepali, Heemanshu, Savita. I highly appreciate and deeply acknowledge the support and help rendered by them during the course of my work.

A profound debt of gratitude is owed to Prof. Madan Mohan Chaturvedi and Prof. Umesh Rai for their support and imparting their knowledge, experienced suggestions and pain to teach various techniques from their busy schedule.

Heartfelt thanks to all the lab mates of Laboratory of Chromatin Biology and Comparative Immunoendocrinology Laboratory, Department of Zoology, University of Delhi, Delhi for providing their kind support and for creating a conducive to learn environment during the work.

I wish to express the deep gratitude to all the subjects for their time and cooperation.

I am incomplete in all the ventures of my life without my Maati (Grand Maa) the most generous and loving person in my life. The most inspiring and important source who kept me firm in the most difficult times of my life and always showered selfless love and blessings which kept me moving towards my goals. She always taught me one thing that the person who performs in life is always recognized and appreciated.

I owe immensely to my respected Papa & Maa (Mr. S.C. Dhall and Mrs. Anita Dhall), my ever replenishing source of strength and encouragement, for their infinite love, silent prayers and selfless sacrifices made for my better and bright future. Bua (Km. Champa Dhall and Santosh Kumari), bade papa (Mr. Amrit lal) and mamma (Mrs. Suman Dhall), their constant and unconditional love, support and blessings are the guiding forces that help me to make every pleasant and unpleasant experience a learning phase with the spirit of moving ahead in life. I will be always short of words to express much more what I feel for them.

My sisters Purnima, Hiteshi, Chitra and Nidhi like a pillar beside me always extended their support in the best and earliest possible manner. Also they are my best buddies since the day I am in this world, I cannot imagine myself being confident without them for any task of my life. Especially Purnima, who always stands by me in my good and bad times.

Mr Pankaj Khurana and Mr. Sachin Harjai for their support and giving their valuable time to make me happy and managed to make me smile when I found it almost impossible. I deeply concede the love and care of my brothers Kamal & Pushkar.

I earnestly acknowledge the love and care rendered by my nanaji (Mr. Bhagat ram Vohra) and naniji (Mrs. Promila Vohra) who have always inspired me for achieving my goals.
I can never forget the deep appreciation of friendship, encouragement, unsolicited help and cheerful company of my friends especially Ms. Jaspreet Kaur. They have always been the people where I can express myself fully with the unshakable faith, that they will give me the utmost strength and best possible solutions in the most difficult phases of my life. My sincere thanks to Dr. Atanu Bhattacharjee who always helped me out during the most crucial part (analysis of data) of my research.

I humbly acknowledge the cooperation of all non administrative staff especially Jagdish ji, Anand bhaiya, Jai Bhagwan, Hoshiyar, Pramod, Darshan ji, Prithvi, Kaushal of Department of Anthropology for their humble coordination to open the department at 7 in the morning only for my field work.

I deeply thank Library staff of Central Science library especially Dr Jindal for his constant support and availability of books, journals and research articles during the course of my work.

I am indebted to the University Teacher Assistantship (UTA), University of Delhi for providing the required financial assistance during the course of my work.

Thanks to all those whom I might have missed unknowingly but whose invisible help materialized this cherished vision. I will end here with a very true quote by Orison Marden.

"Success is not measured by what you accomplish but by the opposition you have encountered, and the courage with which you have maintained the struggle against overwhelming odds."
