Acknowledgement

This thesis arose in part, out of years of research that has been done since I came to Punjabi University, Patiala. By that time, I have worked with a great number of people whose contribution in assorted ways to the research and the making of this thesis deserved special mention. It is a pleasure to convey my humble gratitude to all of them.

Foremost, I would like to record my gratitude to Dr. Baldev Singh Sandhu for his supervision, advice, and guidance from very early stage of this research as well as bestowing me with extraordinary experiences throughout the work. He provided me unflinching encouragement and support in diverse ways, when I needed them most. He is gifted with rare scientist intuition which makes him a constant oasis of ideas and passions in research. I am indebted to him for all his inspirations which enriched my growth as a student, and as a trainee researcher beyond any description.

I am greatly indebted to Dr. Vandana Sharma for her valuable advices during discussions, supervision and critical comments about the work. Countless thanks are due in particular to Dr. Mandeep for all his guidance. I have also benefited from advice and guidance from Dr. Tarika Sandhu who constantly and very kindly granted me her time even for answering some of my most obtuse questions.

I enjoyed outstanding benefits from substantial help of Dr. Inderpreet Sandhu through her meticulous skills and precise focus on work.

It is a pleasure to express my gratitude wholeheartedly to Mrs. Sandhu for her kind generous hospitality. It was always a pleasure to share various thoughts during the “coffee break” in the late afternoon. Thanks to Amitoj for accepting and developing such a great friendship, and dropping me home safely many a time in odd hours.
I was extraordinarily fortunate in having Dr. Manju Jain as my lecturer in Bhiwani. I could never have embarked and started all of this without the foundation created by her through selfless teachings in Psychology and thus opening up unknown areas to me. Thank you for being my mentor, ma’am.

What is me without my family? My Mother, Mrs. Kamlesh, is the person who seeded character, showing me the joy of intellectual pursuit ever since I was a child. My Father, Mr. Laxmi Narain sincerely raised me with his caring and gentle love. Gitesh & Devesh, my brothers thanks for being supportive and caring throughout.

Words fail me to express my appreciation to my husband whose dedication, love and persistent confidence in me, had taken the load off my shoulders. I owe him for being selfless and safeguarding his intelligence, passions, and ambitions collide with mine. Two little angels of our home, Ms. Gauri & Ms. Naina, who had sacrifice their playtime quietly to accommodate my ‘homework time’.

My mother-in-law, brother-in-law and his wife deserve special mention for their unconditional support and prayers. I would also thank my in-law family (a true family) for accepting me as a member of their elite family, warmly. Further, no gratitude is adequate to my father in law, late Mr. Madan Sain for his divine support and blessings that will continue to keep enlightening my path everlastingly. I miss you papa, thank you, for being part of my life. I like to dedicate this part of work to my Father-in-law, the revered Late Madan Sain.

List is endless and hence I would like to thank everybody who contributed to the successful realization of this thesis, with my apologies that I could not mention every name personally here for the sake of brevity. Thanks everyone and thank you almighty.

(Yogita Sharma)