ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my guide Dr. Shirish Chindhade for his helpful suggestions, important advice and constant encouragement during the course of this work. He enabled me to develop a better insight into the subject through his critical suggestions and comments. His detailed and perceptive comments contributed in big way to the clarity of the thesis and its satisfactory completion.

Special thanks are due to Dr. Ashok Thorat, Director, and Institute of advanced Studies in English for his cooperation. He has been extremely helpful at every stage of this work.

A special gratitude is due to Mr. P. A. Inamdar, President M.C.E Society providing necessary environment and encouragement for research in the campus. Special thanks are due to Dr. E. M. Khan, Principal, and Dr. Shaila Bootwala, Vice-Principal Abeda Inamdar Senior College for their support and encouragement. Thanks are due to the management of M. C. E. Society for allowing me to avail of the Teacher Fellowship for two years to complete my work.

I would also like to gratefully acknowledge the help extended by Dr. Maya Pandit, ProVice-Chancellor of EFL University, Hyderabad for giving me important inputs with regard to my research work. She made the library facilities and accommodation available to me on the EFL University campus.

I wish to thank the librarian of Abeda Inamdar College Mrs. Rehana Shaikh for giving me the necessary books. I am grateful for the services given by the British Council Library and Dr. Balasaheb Khardekar Library of the Shivaji University, Kolhapur for providing me the books related to my study.

I would like to thank the U.G.C (Western Regional office) for awarding me a Research Fellowship under the FIP scheme for two years which facilitated the timely completion of this Work.

Many people have directly or indirectly been instrumental in the completion of this work .I sincerely wish to thank my wonderful colleagues at the Department of English Dr. Munira, Shaheen, Shirin and others who were always ready to lend a hand when I required their help. I wish to thank my friend Dr. Rajashri Barvekar, Department of English, Shivaji University Kolhapur extending me all possible help. I would like to specially thank Mrs. Anisa Mujawar, Satara for her crucial help regarding the technical aspects of the work. Dr. & Mrs. Ratnalihar of Hyderabad cannot be thanked enough for making my study trip to Hyderabad comfortable and memorable one.

My special gratitude is due to my brother Raghavendra, sisters-in-law Ashwini, Dhanashree and their families for their loving support. My thanks are due to my mother-in-law and my father-in-law for understanding the demands of research and supporting me by taking up the responsibilities of the house. This allowed me to concentrate on my studies a great deal.

The absence of my father late Dr. A. D. Madgulkar was greatly felt during the course of this work. He was a great source of inspiration and strength to me. But my loving mother assumed that role, encouraged me and was always there when I needed her most. My parents deserve far more credit than I can ever give them.

My husband Narendra has patiently allowed me to focus on my work at the expense of countless little things, all of which only love could endure. A very special thanks is due to my adorable son Vedant who has shown maturity beyond his young age of ten years in handling my occasional neglect towards him due to my work. He helped me in his own little way. Without the love and support of near and dear ones, this work would not have been possible.
