Bibliography
BIBLIOGRAPHY

32. Desidoc bulletin of information technology, 1996, 16(2), a special issue on library networks in India.
33. Dougherty, R. M. Dismantling integrated library systems librarians and their vendors have created a tougher world for themselves, with interoperability the only solution by Andrew K. Pace -- library journal, 2/1/2004

44. Gumilar, D and Johnson, I M. Management information system in some academic libraries in Britain. New review of academic librarianship. 1; 1995, pp. 57-84.

47. Herring, M. A. 10 reasons why the internet is no substitute for a library. American libraries, 32(4), 2001, 76-78.

55. Lakos, Amos. Implementing a library management information system: update and lessons from the tri-university group of libraries experience. Proceedings of the 3rd Northumbria international conference on performance measurement in libraries and information services, Newcastle upon Tyne:
department of information and library management, University of Northumbria. 2000, pp. 91-98.

64. Library and information centres, paper presented in the 30th Drtc workshop on advances in information technology: impact on library & information field, 28-30 October 1996, Bangalore, Drtc.

67. Lyman, P. Computing, libraries, and classrooms: organizing and planning campus information services. In B. L. Hawkins (ed.), organizing and managing information resources on campus (pp.

79. Oclc newsletter, 1995, (July/ August), 22.

82. Pande, Manisha. Information explosion asian age, 12 December 1995.

84. Payne, P. and conyers, A. “are we making a difference?: the lirg/sconul measuring impact initiative”. Library and information research, 28, 88, 2004, pp59-61

85. Poll, Roswitha. Quality and performance measurement: A German British journal of academic librarianship. 8; 1993, pp. 35-47.

91. Raskin, J. Goodbye, my love! (But I don't miss you as much as I thought I would). Knowledge quest, 29(4), 2001, 35-36.

93. Runyon, R. S. Towards the development of a library management information system. Collage and research libraries. 42, 6; 1981, pp. 539-548.

98. Shim (w), McClure (Charles R), Fraser (B T), Bertot (J C), Dagli (A) and Leahy (E H). Measures and statistics for research library network services: procedures and issues: arl e-metrics phase II report. Association of research libraries: washington, d.c. 2001, iv.

104. Subramanian, I and Gupta, Sharad. Get...set...internet. Dataquest, 16-28 February 1995, 112-120.

114. Vavrek, B. Downsizing the public library: This is only the beginning. Public library quarterly, 18(1), 2000, 31-34.

119. Woodsworth, A. & Maylone, T. Chief information officers, academic libraries, and the information job family. In g. M. Pitkin (ed.) Information management and organizational change in higher

121. Young, P. and Peters, A. Management information system in libraries. Encyclopaedia of library and information science. 3; 2003, pp. 1748-1756.

123. Zucca, Joe. Traces in the click stream: early work on a management information repository at the University of Pennsylvania. Information technology and libraries. 22, 4; December 2003, pp. 175-179
webography

11. http://www.ii.fsu.edu/~cmcclure/

