

VITAE

R. SENTHIL received his BE degree in Electronics and Instrumentation Engineering from Bharathiyar University, Coimbatore and M.E. degree in Process Control and Instrumentation from Annamalai University, Chidambaram, India in 1999 and 2002 respectively. Since 1999 he has been working as a Lecturer in Karunya University, Coimbatore, India.

He is a life member of Indian Society of Technical Education, New Delhi, India. He has published four papers in National Conference, one paper in International Conference and one paper in reputed International Journal.

His area of interest includes process control, advance control systems and soft computing techniques.