ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost, I express my deep sense of gratitude to my supervisor Dr. R.K. Sharma. Inspite of his busy work schedule, his keen interest in the present research work gave persisting inspiration in carrying out this work. Without his valuable advice and guidance, I would not have become so involved with and committed to this field, and this work would not have seen the light of the day.

Special thanks go to the respondents, especially the young children who cooperated whole heartedly and readily provided the information relevant to the study. Without their cooperation, my perception of child labour would have remained blurred.

I express my sincere gratitude to all the faculty members of the Centre, especially Prof. A. Habib, Prof. Harjit Singh, Prof. G.K. Chadha, Prof. M.H. Qureshi, Prof. Aslam Mehmood, Dr. M.D. Vemuri, Dr. S. Sinha and Dr. Satish Kumar for their cooperation and encouragement.

I gratefully acknowledge the help and support extended by different Government Departments. I would like to express my gratitude at the personal level to Shri B.K. Singh, Assistant Labour Commissioner, Firozabad and his office staff for the help rendered during the survey. Capt. Swadeep's family members at Firozabad were very helpful during the survey work.
The help extended by Mr. A. Jayakumar and Geetha for computing work is highly appreciated with a feeling of indebtedness. I am also thankful to my friends, Dinesh Kumar, Praveen Kumar Jha and Nalin Kumar Singh who gave me lot of encouragement and rendered all possible help during the field investigations. Pema’s help and encouragement in the final phase of this study is also acknowledged. Other friends who were equally helpful were Devender, Shaligram, Ananth, Pramod, Mohana, Apurba, Nalini, Narayan, Sanjay, Neeraj, Kakali, Sona, Ashok and several others, who helped in their own way in completion of this study. Their help made this arduous task look very simple.

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not express my gratitude to my parents, brothers and sister for extending all support and encouragement in carrying through this research work.

Lastly, I also express my thanks to Indian Council of Social Science Research for awarding me partial doctoral fellowship and thus, easing mine financial burden that I incurred in carrying out this study.

Errors of substance or judgement if any, are my sole responsibility.
