ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

‘GURU’ is one who removes darkness by holding the torch and then guides the disciple through the path leading to the search for knowledge. As the disciple I remain forever indebted to him. Fructification of my research work presented here would have not been possible but for the guidance, inspiration and constant encouragement of Dr. Harish S. Oza who kindly accepted to be my guide despite his several commitments and callings of duty. It has been a very rewarding experience for me to work under his valuable guidance.

Results derived from responses in questionnaires owe their value and validity to the factual, conceptual and willing responses offered by the respondents. My thanks are due to all respondents who had the patience to fill in the data, had the curiosity on the nature of work, had the readiness to cooperate and assist, and could spare their valuable time for the researcher. They indeed provided the primary source of information. I wish I could acknowledge my indebtedness to them individually by name. However, confidentiality clause needs to be respected. I am also grateful to all those who assisted me in my access to all executives of Textile Sector. I am thankful to all of them for rendering assistance.

My enlightened colleagues contributed in terms of discussions at various stages of the research. Such discussions have been very useful.

My thanks are also due to Dr. S. M. Shah, Campus Director, S. V. Institute of Computer Studies and Management, Kadi. He not only facilitated my work in all respects but also took keen interest in my progress and rendered advice as well as inspiration. I also thank Prof. Damubhai Panchasara, Dr. Tejas Dave & Mr. Ketan Shah for providing valuable inputs in my research work on continuous basis.

I am particularly grateful to my mother, my wife and my son for inspiring, encouraging and facilitating my research pursuit of this magnitude. This has provided me the great motivational thrust.
