ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost, I would like to thank God almighty for having made everything possible by giving me strength and courage to do this work.

I express my deep sense of gratitude and immense respect, to my supervising teacher Dr. S. Venugopal, Head (Rtd) Post Graduate and Research Department of Commerce, The Cochin College, Kochi for his valuable guidance, whole hearted support and constant encouragement in every stage of my study. He has inspired me to work methodically and accurately not by words, but by his meticulousness and insistence on perfection. I cherish in my heart his wise council, friendly care and unfailing guidance without which, this thesis would not have appeared in its present form. I thankfully acknowledge all his precious services to me.

I am greatly obliged to Dr. T.N. Sugathan, Director, Centre for Survey Research and Management Services, Kochi for his guidance in statistical analysis.

I am grateful to the members of the Cochin Education Society for their encouragement and support during the course of my research. I gratefully acknowledge the support and assistance extended to me by the Principal, The Cochin College, my colleagues especially those in the Department of Commerce and all the non-teaching staff.

I also take this opportunity to express deep sense of gratitude to Sri. K.J. Sebastian, Director Statistics, Kerala Khadi and Village Industries Board, Smt. Prasanna Kumari, Project Officer (Tvm) Kerala Khadi and Village Industries Board, Smt. Radha, Project Officer, (Ekm), Kerala Khadi and Village Industries Board, Sri. Pradeep Kumar Project Officer (Ksm), Kerala Khadi and Village
Industries Board, for their cordial support valuable information in various stages of my research.

I am thankful to the librarians and other staff of various academic institutions viz. CUSAT, Kochi, University of Calicut, Thiruvananthapuram; Kerala University, Thiruvananthapuram; State Central Library, Thiruvananthapuram; Department of Commerce, University of Kerala, Thiruvananthapuram; CDS, Thiruvananthapuram; M.G.
