ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The work presented in this thesis could be possible only because of the vigorous co-operation, guidance and assistance provided by a number of persons and a few institutions. I cannot afford not to mention them.

Foremost, it is the proposition of God Shri Hanumanji with whose blessings; I today have mastered all what I have.

My sincere appreciation is to my gratitude to my Ph.D. Guide, Prof. (Dr.) Sandip K. Bhatt. With his enthusiasm; inspiration; and great efforts to explain things clearly and simply, he made this journey of three years a great learning opportunity. From the very first meeting with my guide Dr. Bhatt till date at the time of completing my thesis work, he has provided encouragement, sound advice and many of invaluable ideas. Without his guidance, it would not be possible to reach this level of thesis completion.

Several individuals have provided immense contribution in the process of “Microfinance in India: An Analytical Study of Its Financial, Human Resource and Managerial Aspects of Selected Institutions”. I would like to express my deep gratitude to Prof. (Dr.) P. K. Rathod Head, Department of Business Studies, S. P. University; Prof. (Dr.) M. K. Patel, Former Head, Department of Business Studies, S. P. University; for their continual support and motivation.

I would also like to thank all the Faculty Members of Department of Business Studies, especially Prof. (Dr.) C. K. Sonara, Dr. R. M. Joshi, Dr. P. R. Sheth and Dr. Y. M. Dalvadi for their valuable advice, inspiration and constant help
