ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis would not have seen the light of day but for the invaluable advice, guidance, assistance and encouragement of one and all who have extended their hands in support of my endeavour - right from the conceptual stage till it took its final shape. I would particularly wish to thank:

- first and foremost, Prof. R. K. Mohanty (our HOD and my Guide), for suggesting this topic and guiding me through the intricate processes of research;
- Dr. Abhijit Dandekar, my Co-Guide, for his valuable advice and active words of encouragement;
- Prof. V. S. Shinde, my Director, for his able leadership;
- My parents, for organising my field visits and ferrying me to places of my subject;
- The folks in Puri, Messrs. Surojit Ghosh, Jugal Nanda, Chittaranjan, Khuntia and Raj Kishore Mishra, for their vital role in introducing me to the players at Puri;
- The players of the game at Puri – Messrs. Harihara Pujapanda Samanta, Suara Manabandhu Kara, Rama Chandra Dash, Sinhari Baidyanath Kara, Gobinda Chandra Tripathy, Lakhmana Barik, Radhakrushna Mahasuara and Dr. Gunanidhi Mohapatra – for their patience and time in staging demonstrations of the complicated game for me;
- Mr. Banamali Mohapatra of Raghurajpur, a leading patachitra artist of the country, his wife, Sarojini, his son, Bijaya and his daughter-in-law, Sabita, for generously exhibiting to me how the artful cards are delicately prepared;
- Dr. P. K. Singh and Dr. Bhagyalipi Malla of the Odisha State Museum for providing me access to important documents relating to the game;
- Mr C. Tripathy, Mr. N.N. Majhi and Mr. G. Sahu of Sonepur for introducing me to the players there;
- Mr. Harishankar Saraf of Sonepur for kindly lending me his book on the ‘Ramayana’ version of the game, detailing its rules and conventions;
- Mr. Gyani Mahapatra of Sonepur, the lone patachitra artist I met there;
- Messrs. Sribatsa Mallik, Satyanarayana Meher, Netrananda Barik and Chaturbhuja Beriha, the players at Sonepur who entertained and educated me on the game;
- Mr. Amarjeet Behara, the then Branch Manager of State Bank of India, Chikiti, who kindly introduced me to the King and the players there;
- Raja Sachchidananda Rajendra Deb of Chikiti for sparing his valuable time to reminisce about the game played during his childhood;
- Messrs. Lokanath Sethi, Bhanu Behera and Kalu Sethi of Chikiti who demonstrated the Naqs version of the game;
- Dr. Dasharathi Acharjya, whose Odia article on the game inspired me to visit Bhawanipatna and his village, Ichhapur. He introduced me to the players there and arranged for demonstrations of the game at his home. He also referred me to Dr. J. P. Singhdeo, Maharaja of Khariar, an great aficionado of the game;
- Messrs. Bharati Bhusan Satpathy and Umesh Satpathy, because of whom I could visit Bhawanipatna and Ichhapur;
Messrs. Gopinath Mishra (Jagannathpur), Bishwanath Mishra, Gopinath Mishra (Ichchhhapur), Bishweswar Acharjya, Mohan Chandra Acharjya, Raghunath Acharjya, Kishore Chandra Acharjya, Lokanath Acharjya and Prabakar Acharjya of Kalahandi who demonstrated the game for my benefit and explained its nuances;

Dr. Jitamitra Prasad Singhdeo, Maharaja of Khariar, and his brother Mr. Nilalohita Singhdeo, who graciously shared their valuable collections with me;

Mr. Sudhanva Hari Ranade, Director of Kelkar Museum and the librarian for allowing me to access documents in their library;

Dr. K.K. Maheshwari, the founder of Indian Institute of Research in Numismatic Studies, Anjineri, Nashik, for allowing me to access the institute’s and his personal collection of books and cards;

The institute’s Director, Mr. Amiteshwar Jha, Mr. Danish Moin and Riza bhai for helping me immensely in the documentation and study of the cards in the Maheshwari collection. Amiteshwar Sir and Danish Sir also treated me like a member of their family and gave me both professional and personal support;

Mr. Gondale, the Institute’s librarian, for searching out everything that I required;

Ms. Chithramala Tharangani, for being such a sweet and fun companion;

Panduranga kaka and Shantaram kaka and the staff at the Institute for the timely and tasty tea and food;

Mr. Suken Shah for enlightening me about this collection’s existence;

Ms. Mokshada Salunke, my roommate and friend, for carrying out a considerable amount of my work, especially the making of my plates, for making me strong tea at any hour of the day or night and for driving me to finish the work.

Mr. Shantanu Vaidya for his invaluable, expert guidance and helping in the thesis;

Ms. Navjot Kour, for helping me in completing my thesis and for being a very sweet friend;

Ms. Rajkumari Barbina, who helped me out with technicalities of the computer;

Mr. Sumeet Jadhav, for converting my non-supportable videos;

Ms. Pradnya Kulkarni Madam for teaching us ‘Research Methodology’ and for boosting my personal confidence by her constructive remarks;

My brother Anuraag and my friends, Simple Sujata Mishra and Arijit Mukherjee, for providing me all moral support and for lifting my spirits when they were low; and

Last but not the least, the college staff and the library staff and the mess that took good care of my health and was always open, no matter what.
List of Figures

Fig. 1.1 Dominoes Cards
Fig. 2.1 Maratha Cards from Raja Kelkar Museum, Pune
Fig. 2.2 Niryas Kalpa
Fig. 2.3 Artist applying tamarind paste on the first layer of cloth
Fig. 2.4 The second layer of cloth
Fig. 2.5 Chalkstone powder mixed with water and tamarind gum
Fig. 2.6 Chalkstone paste applied on cloth
Fig. 2.7 Grinding with a rough stone
Fig. 2.8 Grinding with a polished stone
Fig. 2.9 Polishing the pata
Fig. 2.10 Cutting pieces of Pata for cards
Fig. 2.11 A strip of pata
Fig. 2.12 Grinding the colour stones
Fig. 2.13 Sadheis
Fig. 2.14 The artificial hair brushes with the bamboo holder
Fig. 2.15 Shapes of cards
Fig. 2.16 Puri Dasavatara ganjapa box with a ledge
Fig. 2.17 Sonepur Ramayana Ganjapa box with finger groove
Fig. 2.18 Opening lid
Fig. 2.19 Sliding lid
Fig. 2.20 Sawantwadi Box
Fig. 2.21 Rajasthan Box
Fig. 2.22 Nirmal Box
Fig. 2.23 Late Jagannatha Mohapatro
Fig. 2.24 Banamali and Bijaya Mohapatro
Fig. 2.25 Prakash Chandra Mohapatro
Fig. 2.26 Bidyabati Mohapatro
Fig. 2.27 Apanna Mohapatro
Fig. 4.1 Different forms of Taj ultimately resulting in phula
Fig. 4.2 Some Mughal Samsher
Fig. 4.3 Samsher as depicted in Odisha
Fig. 4.4 Ghulam of a Mughal Set
Fig. 4.5 Golapa of a set from Odisha
Fig. 4.6 Different types of Cang, circled one is from Odisha
Fig. 4.7 Different types of Barat, circled one is from Odisha
Fig. 4.8 Different types of Qimash
Fig. 5.1: A painter painting on the outer wall of his house
Fig. 5.2: The Lankeśvarī temple
Fig. 5.3: Idol of Goddess Lankeśvarī
Fig. 6.1 A Game in Progress
Fig. 6.2: The crowd beneath the tree enjoying the game
Fig. 6.3: Present king of Chikiti, Sachchidananda Rajendra Deb
Fig. 6.4: The present players in Chikiti
Fig. 6.5: The players of Kalahandi
Fig 7.1 The king and ten cards of Ramayana set from Paralakhemundi
Fig 7.2 The invitation card box containing a framed card and the couple
Fig. 7.3 Ganjapa decorated wall in a wedding hall
List of Tables

Table 1.1 Strong and weak suits
Table 3.1: The first eight suits
Table 3.2: The last eight suits
Table 3.3: List of weak and strong suits in Sonepur
Table 3.4: List of strong and weak suits in Kalahandi
Table 3.5: List of suits of Chikiti
Table 3.6: List of suits in Maharashtra
Table 4.1 List of Dasavatara Suits in Puri
Table 4.2 List of Dasavatara suits in Chikiti
Table 4.3 List of Dasavatara suits in Paralakhemundi
Table 4.4 Ramayana suits of Sonepur
Table 4.5 Ramayana suits of Paralakhemundi
Table 4.6 Ramayana suits of Chikiti
Table 4.7 Krsnastamalla suits of Puri
Table 4.8 Krsnastamalla suits of Chikiti
Table 4.9 Krsnastamalla suits of Paralakhemundi
Table 4.10 Puri Navagunjara suits
Table 4.11 Chikiti Astadikpala suits
Table 4.12 Saptamatrika suits
Table 4.13 Ratha-Hathi/Ghoda suits
Table 4.14 Rashi suits
Table 4.15 Navagraha suits
List of Plates

4.1.1- 4: Puri Dasavatara

4.2.1- 8: Chikiti Dasavatara

4.2a.1- 5: Chikiti Sesanaga Dasavatara

4.3.1- 6: Paralakhemundi Dasavatara

4.4.1- 2: Putlabandhi Ramayana

4.5.1- 4: Paralakhemundi Ramayana

4.6.1- 2: Chikiti Rama Patabhishekh Ramayana

4.7.1- 2: Puri Radha-Krsnakrsnashtamalla

4.8.1- 4: Chikiti Krsna-Balarama Krsnashtamalla

4.8a.1- 2: Chikiti Sheshanagakrsnashtamalla

4.9.1- 4: Paralakhemundi Radha-Krsnakrsnashtamalla

4.10.1- 2: Puri Navagunjara

4.11.1- 4: Chikiti Astadikpala

4.12.1- 2: Saptamattrka

4.13.1- 2: Dharakote Ratha-Hathi

4.13a.1-3: Paralakhemundi Ratha-Hathi (Single Colour)

4.13b.1- 2: Paralakhemundi Ratha-Hathi (Colourful Version)

4.15.1- 2: Paralakhemundi Ratha-Godha (Bird Ganjapa)
4.16.1- 6: Chikit Rashi Ganjapa

4.17.1- 5: Raghurajpur Navagraha Ganjapa