ISLAMIC STUDIES IN BARAK VALLEY: CONTRIBUTION OF ULAMA
CHAPTER – III

ISLAMIC STUDIES IN BARAK VALLEY: CONTRIBUTION OF ULAMA

Barak Valley is an important part of the state of Assam having a separate geographical entity containing linguistic and cultural attributes distinctly different from that of Brahmaputra valley and the hilly areas. It comprises three districts of Cachar; Karimganj and Hailakandi. And Karimganj district was partially a part of greater Sylhet which had been also a part of Bengal during the Pre-Colonial period.

To investigate the existence of institutions for imparting Islamic education in this Valley and the contribution and roles of prominent Ulama of the valley are studied in this chapter.

When Gaurh was conquered by the successful military cum-spiritual expedition led by all time celebrated Sufi saint Hazrat Shahjalal (Shah Jalal Uddin) Mujarrad al-yemani in association with the army chief Sikandar Ghazi in 1303 AD against the king Govinda of Gaurh, the flag of Islam was hoisted in this region.

After the conquest of Gaurh, Shahjalal settled down at Sylhet which became the main centre of Islamic activities and started from here the preaching of Islam in the eastern part of Bengal as a whole and in the Surma-Barak Valley in Particular.
The 360 Awlia or the disciples of Hazrat Shahjalal Mujarrad were engaged in preaching Islam and spreading relevant teaching in every nook and corner of the region. A group of disciples of Hazrat Shahjalal were deputed to various part of present Barak Valley whose presence is supported by the shrines established by them till today.

In addition, we have observed that the abodes of the Sufi saints, i.e. the Khanqahs or Dargahs flourished in various places. These Khanqahs or Daragahs are the centers of religious learning as well as spiritual training which came into existence in those initial stages. The Sufis used to teach their disciples or followers on the basis of the fundamental teachings of Islam. What the Qur\(\text{\textsection}\)an imposes on a Muslim and the traditions of the prophet Muhammad (SA) directs, to perform for continuing the life as a Muslim, were the contents of elementary lessons in Khanqahs. The people, who embraced Islam within this boundary of Assam, like the neo-Muslims of other parts of the world, needed to learn the lessons of the holy Qur\(\text{\textsection}\)an, the contents which are quite essential for performing daily prayers. He has to maintain the routine work directed by the saint on whose call he embraced Islam. People often went to him to get lessons. He prescribed some extolments of Allah or some contents in Arabic praising Allah. He asked to recite some special Suras or chapters in some particular moments daily. Kalimas, Tassahhud, Dua-e-Qunut etc. were to be taught in those Khanqahs. Otherwise the Muslims did not have any way of learning these. Without these Islam was useless to the new comers in Islam itself. Some disciples were in sound mind and could learn the elementary lessons very quickly and the saint or the Pir Saheeb directed them to organize a teaching course including the Arabic alphabet, Arabic words spelling, reading Surahs (Qur’anic chapters) with syllables. This way, teaching and learning of primary knowledge of Arabic in the Khanqahs came into existence.

In course of time as the number of Muslims increased; the mosques began to be established in various places. In those days mosques were used not only for performing Namaz (Salah) but for imparting primary Arabic teaching to the neo-Muslims as well as to their children in this region as happened in other parts of the world.

In this regard, some enthusiastic Ulama and Socio-religious workers endeavoured in setting up different Islamic institutions to develop the system of Islamic Studies in the Valley in Twentieth century A.D. It is necessary to discuss here the role of the most prominent Ulama and religious activists who played salient role in the development of Islamic studies and culture in the valley.

3.1. Contribution of Ulama and others in the development of Islamic Studies in Barak Valley.

The Ulama and Muslim Missionaries, comprising of Pirs, Faquirs and other dedicated souls of the Valley who came to the Valley with the invaders or conquerers, or some times Islamic learning and its rites and rituals, Among them the prominent saints and renowned Ulama who played an important and vital role in this regard are discussed below :-
3.2. Hazrat Shah Badar (Alive in 1946 AD)

He is one of the most prominent disciples of Hazrat Shah Jalal Mujarrad al-Yeomani and also the most celebrated Sufi Saint who entered the present boundary of Karimganj district of Barak Valley. He has first stayed at Bundashil village near Bardarpur and he established a Darga in the presently near the fort of Badarpurghat; near Duk Bunglow and the circle office of Badarpur.

Through establishing his Dargah Shah Badar started the spreading of the basic knowledge and fundamental maxims of Islam among the common masses of the locality. It may be mentioned here that, on his stress and the request of other disciples once Hazart Shah Jalal came to Bundashil village and taught the people about Islam and Sufism. His role in spreading the Islamic knowledge in the valley is noteworthy and he had played a premiership role in this regard.

3.3 Shah Adam Khaki (alive in 1949 AD):

He is also a celebrated Sufi saint and among the contemporaries of Hazrat Shah Badar and a distinguished disciple of Hazrat Shah Jalal Mujjarard, entered in the Valley and started to reside at the western part of Badarpur, and later he established here a Dargah which is well known as Mukam of Adam Khaki. The Mukam (Shrine) is situated adjacent to NH 44, at present NH-6 at the western part of Badarpur. Both Hindus and Muslims alike visit and pray homage to this celebrated Sufi saint. It proves that he is a living symbol and embodiment of Hindu Muslim unity.
Adam Khaki was restless and selfless social worker who engaged himself major time in guiding the people through forwarding the lessons of Sufism and spiritualism. He taught the disciples how to get salvation and reward of Allah and to attain the goal of life through their respective ‘Tariqahs’ (method).

3.4. Shah Diya Uddin: (alive in 1952 AD.)

Another important early contributor of Islamic studies of the Valley was Shah Diauddin, whom Hazrat Shahjalal Mujarred had specially sent to the Valley to impart training religious lesson and rituals among the people. He was a Sufi of high rank and position. He acted upon the order of his Shaikh and propagated Islam among the people of the Valley till his last breath. He established a mosque near Khadiman village and a Maktab therewith which were later swept away along with his tomb by the aggressive alter of the river Barak.\(^3\)

Such way Dargahs, Khankaqahs of the Valley contributed to a great extent in spreading of Islamic and Arabic education in the valley. Dargas and khanqahs are the Persian words, which are used for Mahammedans Shrines and tombs of some reputed saints and Sufi persons; which are objects of adoration.\(^4\) Dr. Tamizi, a renowned scholar of Sufism observes. دت (Khangaqah) is a Training centre for the mystics, a house for the poor, a shelter for travelers; a place of mixing with each other for all including Muslim and non-Muslims and the rank and file of the society.\(^5\) The system of teaching and learning through these institutions has been continued from generation after generation together for centuries. It is significant to know that the most of the سباق’ (lesson) of Sufi orders are imported in Arabic language, which are eagerly learnt by the disciples by heart.

The renowned Sufi saint as well as the prominent Islamic scholar and thinker of the valley, Moulana Mosaddar Ali Laskar (R) was born in 1911 in the village of East Gobindapur near Banskandi of Cachar district. His father’s name was Munshi Md. Abu Bakar and mother’s name was Monwara Bibi. His father was died when he was a child of only three years and lost his beloved mother when he was in 11 years.

The orphan child Musaddar started to learn the primary religious education in the local Maktabs. He then started to memorise the Holy Qur’an and completed the memorization of whole Qur’an at the age of fourteen.

After completing the Hifz of Qur’an Moulana got admitted into Banskandi Madrasa and completed the course up to ‘Sharhe -Jami’ with an extra ordinary name and fame. After completing the course he went the Asia’s famous institution Darul Uloom Deobond in 1931 when he was a young boy of 21 years and studied the Books of Shiha Sittah under the supervision and guidance of prominent and renowned Muhaddith of the Madrasa and then he returned to his native place with a deep knowledge of Qur’an and Hadith (Traditions).

Service: - After returning from Deobond, Moulana had started his service at Baskandi Islamic Madrasa; presently Darul Uloom Banskandi in 1935 and continuously served in this Madrasa about 33 years. At that time the wave of Freedom Movement of India was in extreme position. And Jamit-Ulama-e-Hind and Indian National congress had played the prominent role in anti British movement. So to follow the verdict of Hazart Shaik-ul-Islam Hussain Ahmed Madani; all his followers strongly participated in this movement. And accordingly Moulana Masaddar also followed the path of other disciples of Shaikhul Islam and strongly participated in the freedom Movement of India.

Moulana Masaddar Ali was the son of the soil of Banskandi as well as a dynamic personality and a renowned teacher of the Valley. He served 33 years constantly to develop the Banskandi Madrasa. He was the second dedicated soul for the well establishment of the said Madrasa. His relentless services and later on by the earnest effort of Moulana Ahmed Ali, the Madrasa achieved a rank among the 1st listed Islamic Universities of the nation.

Moulana Masaddar also was a famous Sufi saint and a dedicated soul in spiritual line. He was treated an epoch maker of spiritual world in this Valley. He was also an eminent disciple of the world famous scholar Shaikhul Islam Hazat Hussain Ahmed Madani. Due to this reason he became a famous Sufi saint and performed the task of ‘Biayat’ of 137 people of the different parts of Assam under his jurisdiction and guidance. He also established a Khanka at Gobindapur to perform the Sufi activities smoothly in it. Later the Khanka was popularly known as khanka-e-Masaddaria.
In addition to the above, he was also a devoted figure in establishing khankas and madrasa in the different part of the state. It is be mentioned that near about two hundred Maktabs and Khankas had been established by him in the different parts of the region.

Besides these, he was an amicable man and spoke very little except the necessity. He used to engage himself most of the time in meditation and other Sufi activities. He died on 11\textsuperscript{th} January 1988 and was buried near the side of present Ja\textsuperscript{âm}iatul Islamia Khank-e-Gobindapur. Many of his disciples visit his shrine and pay honour to him till the date.\textsuperscript{7}

Moulana Abdur Raquib was a renowned Islamic scholar and a pioneer of spreading Arabo-Islamic education in the Valley. He was born probably \textsuperscript{8} in 1913 at the village Kandigram; 4 Kilometers westward from Nilambazar of Karimganj district. His father's name was Md. Alim who was a very pious and religious man.

Maulana started his Maktab and primary education in the village Nogaria, which is situated near Baraigram rail junction, under the supervision of Moulana Azfar Ali Shaheb of Singaria village. He was an extra ordinary talented boy from his early childhood. Due to this reason he was very much affectionate to his teachers. Moulana had lost his father and mother at his early age and became an orphan child, so the teachers as well as the local philanthropists helped him by giving necessary cloths and lodging and foodings and also provided him the total expenditures of his studies.
After completing the primary education he got admitted into Gandhai Rafiul Islam Madrasa, situated at Gandhai Bazar under Nilambazar circle. After continuing few years of study in this Madrasa he and his classmate Moulana Ansar of Balia went to Rampur in UP state for acquiring higher education, following the advice of their reverend teachers Moulana Azfar Ali and Moulana Hazim Ali; a prominent personalities of Singaria village. Both Moulana Ansar and Abdur Raqib got admitted into Oriental College at Rampur, and he passed the first examination of this college with name and fame and acquired a scholarship by which he maintained the study expenditure here. Lastly he passed the highest class Examination of Arabic from this institution securing 1st division and stood 2nd in order of merit. After passing the final examination he went to Mirat city and got admitted into a Madrasa near Cumvu gate and passed the Alim, Fadil and Title Examination under Allahabad University Arabic Branch. After passing the examination, he again came back to Rampur and met the Principal Janab Fazl-e-Hoque, who was very much affectionate towards him and proposed him to serve as a teacher in a Madrasa at Berali. But the nostalgic feeling towards his motherland didn't permit him to serve here in this Madrasa and came back to his native land.

Service: - At the very outset of his service life, he was appointed at Idgah A.I. Sr. Madrasa. After few days later he came to Shingibill Madrasa in Dharmanagar by the request of the local people. After few months of service he again came back to his native land and started his service on temporary basis at Nilambazar Madrasa. After that the Muhtamim of Jaintya Gasbari Alia Madrasa requested him to join here and to teach the most difficult subject of Arabic like Foraid and Boidawid. And accordingly he went to this Madrasa and started teaching of these famous and difficult Kitabs. But the remuneration which was paid by the Madrasa authority was insufficient for him to maintain the livelihood so he gave up the service and returned to his native place. After that the renowned Sufi and scholar Moulana Yakub Ali of Bundashil (village situated in Badarpur) appointed him as a teacher of Arabic subjects at Deorail Alia Madrasa for a month. After that one day he went to Hailakandi and met with the Zamidar of the town Irfan Ali Laskar and with a highly reputed Barrister Moulbi Abdul Mutlib Mazumder (MA.LLB) who was a long-term Minister of Assam Legislative Assembly. After an introduction to them, they requested him to establish a Madrasa in the east part of the town where an institution was situated namely Khadimul Insan. Then Moulana Raquib had stayed at the residence of Abdul Mutlib Mazumder and started the mission of establishing a madrasa there and primarily started teaching in an aluminium sheeted house, which is now famous as Hailakandi Senior Madrasa. The founder principal of Asimia Title Madrasa Imdadur Rahman was the student of this Madrasa at that time. Gradually the Madrasa started to flourish and was running depending on the charity of the people. And at the fight of 1942 had stated he had left the Madrasa and came back to his house.

After few days later, he met with prominent persons of Pratapgarh namely Moulana Tahir Ali of Deobari, (Asimganj) Hazi Musabbir Ali Sharpancha; Moulvi Asadur Raja Chy. Hazi abdur Rahim Tapader and others and started a discussion for starting a Madrasa at Asimganj. In this connection he forwarded a proposal for establishment of an Alia Madrasa and the whole people unanimously accepted the proposal of the Moulana and built a kuccha house with bamboo and cane and started teaching in this house. After passage of few years the managing committee of this Madrasa appointed him as Head Moulana and he also served in this post till his superannuation on 31st. March, 1973.

It is because of his deep realization into the awful backwardness of the Valley in Islamic education and also for his having an ardent desire of serving the cause of humanity; he took keen interest in the spread of Islamic education among the mass illiterate people and also worked seriously to develop their Islamic Knowledge and tried to produce them as the real citizen of Free-India. Thus for his active service and participation in establishment of a number of Islamic institutions and also the scholarly knowledge in the field of Arabic as well as Islamic knowledge he became a popular and highly reputed scholar of the Valley in particular and Assam in general.

Moulana Raquib has had a close affinity with politics. He used to attend in various political party meeting. He was also very actively associated With*Jamiat-Ulama-e-Hind* and Indian National Congress because the two organizations had played the most remarkable role for attaining the Freedom. He also participated strongly for keeping India undivided for thus he had fled away to Tripura also.

Beside these, Moulana also was very much interested for the improvement of education and socio-economic condition of the people of the locality. He was appointed in 1947 as the last govt. nominee of Local Board of Karimganj sub division. He was also served several times as a prominent member of Assam State Madrasa Board and also an examiner and moderator of various examination conducted by Assam Madrasa Board. Raising his immense popularity and social activities people of his locality elected him as Councillor in 1974 from Faramphasa Gaon Panchyat and also he was elected as Chairman of the Advisory board of South Karimganj Development Block. In addition, he was closely associated with the management of different institutions of the area. He was also the long timed president of Idgah High School, Idgah A.I. Sr. Madrasa. It is also further known that he had a good affinity and relation with different local and political leaders irrespective of caste and creed and also they had paid due honour and respect to him.

Lastly to conclude, it may be worth mentioning here, that the research scholar of present work namely A.H. Monjurul Haque is the only son of the said Moulana. His dedication and contribution toward the development of Islamic and Arabic studies in the Valley will be kept as an unforgettable history of the valley. He died on 4th April, 1988 and buried in the regional graveyard situated near the A.O.C of Mullaganj Bazar.

3.7: Moulana Ansar (1913-1972.)

He was a well known scholar in Arabic and a renowned Sufi of the Valley who had played a vital role for the development of Arabo - Islamic education in Karimganj area. He was born in a hilly and backward village namely Amdhar of Karimganj district under Ratabari

Moulana Jalil was an active and dynamic leader of Indian National Congress. He was related with Indian National Congress and Jamiat-Ulama-e-Hind from 1937. He was also selected as the member of Traditional Congress Committee and a member of School Board of Karimganj in 1948. And from 1950 to 1954 he was the Vice-chairman of the Local Board of Karimganj. He was elected as an MLA in the first Legislative election of Post Independent India in the year 1952. He was elected six times as a member of Assam Legislative Assembly viz. in 1952, 1957, 1962, 1967, 1972, & 1983. He was also the General Secretary of Assam Provincial Jamat Ulama from 1943 to 1960.

Other social activities: - Moulana Jalil was one of the outstanding disciples of Shaikhul Islam Sayed Hussain Ahmed Madani. He had been in centre of the movement for preserving the chastity of madrasa education in Assam. In the year 1960 when Madrasa Board of Assam wanted to reform and modernize the course curriculum of Madrasa Education, by subtracting some important Arabic courses and adding some general subjects, at that time Moulana Jalil vehemently protested this reformation as an active member of the Board. But he failed to attain the goal. When Moulana observed that through this reformed syllabus, Madrasa education will lose their mainstream and original entity; suddenly he started a new mission according to the advice and suggestion of the Central Committee of North East- India Emarat-e Shariah and Nadwatut Tam’mer; Badarpur. And started a new syllabus based madrasa from primary level to Title Madrasa level. His new pattern of Madrasa and reformed syllabus attracted the attention and appreciation from Darul Uloom, Deobond (UP) Jamia Millia, Delhi, Nadwatul Ulama- Lucknow, and others. He also attained the recognition and equivalency of its certificate under State Madrasa Education Board, Assam.
In addition to the above, Moulana Jalil Chowdhury was also a leading pioneer of the reformation of Maktab education in primary level. He introduced a new syllabus and systematic curricula for the children of Sobahi Maktabs. This reformed and new syllabus has been followed now a day by Imams to teach the children of Sobahi Maktab of the Valley.

Moulana Jalil chowdhury was also a restless and selfless social reformer and worker. He established many Islamic organizations; like establishment of ‘Darul Qaza,’ Baitul Mal’ etc. He was the forerunner in the establishment of ‘Darul Qaza’ in North-East India. He was also the pioneer of establishing Islamic Treasury (Baitul Mal) in North-east India with a zeal to help the poor meritorious student for attaining higher education and widows, orphans, distressed and poors also get financial supports and benefits from this venture. These historical steps are now playing a remarkable role in the development of socio-economic conditions of the poors and and distressed humanity to a great extent.

Moulana Jalil also was a renowned Sufi Saint and perfect ‘Oli’ (spiritual leader) of the Valley. He used to give the spiritual lesson to his disciples regularly and established a Khanka at Alakulipar near his residence to pertain the eternal meditation and other spiritual activities along with his disciples. Later after his demise, the activities are running by his representative, the famous scholar of the valley Moulana Tayyeebur Rahman Barbhuiya, who is the Present Imir-e- Shariat and Ameer-se- Nadwatut Tam’mer of North East India.\textsuperscript{16}
To conclude, it may be said that his unique and incomparable contribution in Islamic, Political and social field to develop and serve the community and nation has surpassed the limit of general expectation explanation. His name, fame and activities will remain undying from generation to generation. The famous scholar has died on 19th December 1989 and buried in the graveyard adjacent to his house and the southern part of NH 44 at present NH 6.

His book Islamic Buniadi Shiksha which is designed for the students of primary Maktabs. This book is well accepted by the teachers and students of Sobahi Maktabs.
In addition to the above; Moulana Usman has played a pioneering role in the establishment of a girls’ Madrasa at Hanifabad, near Asimganj Gate namely Moriam Ajmal Memorial Girls’ Madrasa. The Madrasa has been serving spontaneously to educate the Muslim girls in Islamic and Arabic lines. Besides these; Moulana is also a strong supporter and an active worker of Jamiat Ulama e-Hind. His contribution and efforts regarding the spreading of Islamic and Arabic studies is undoubtedly prominent and praiseworthy.

Conclusion: -

The thorough discussion has made one thing clear that the scholars, Sufi, saints, and other Islamic thinkers have played a vital and remarkable role in the development of Islamic studies in the Valley.

It is revealed from our investigation that the Islamic institutions which are now a days offer the luminous rays in the realm of Islamic knowledge and education are the results and fruits of the hard works of these above mentioned personalities of the Valley. It they didn’t strive in this regard, the Valley would remain in pagan darkness till today. Hence the role played by these scholars, writers and other sufì saints may be considered to be the valuable contribution to the Islamic and Arabic studies of the Valley during twentieth century.
