ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

While completing this thesis, I have received valuable help and assistance from numerous people from various walks of life. I wish to acknowledge all those who were directly or indirectly instrumental in making this study a reality.

First of all I am greatly indebted to Dr. P.M. Vasave, the guide of thesis for the guidance rendered by him during the completion of this thesis. Without his cooperation and guidance this thesis would not have been reached to a completion. I am grateful to Mr. Sudhir Sharma, Director, Centre for Studies in Rural Development (CSR&D), Ahemadnagar, for the co-operation extended by him at various times in the realization of the present study.

I am most grateful to Dr. D. K. Lal Das who inspired me to undertake a doctoral research study. His motivation, encouragement and statistical expertise has immensely contributed for the making of this study. I also Thanks to Dr. Anna Mathew, principal, Roda Misty College of Social Work for providing me lodging and boarding on a short notice, whenever I went to Hyderabad for my research work.

My sincere thanks are due to all the respondents from urban and rural areas of Akola District who were kind enough to spend their valuable time for giving me information and discussing the problem under study.

I am particularly thankful to friend Mr. Sanjay Salve who accompanied me in the study areas from village to village and Taluka to Taluka and worked hard in collecting the data.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to all the scholars from whose work and studies I have quoted their contributions in my thesis.

I am thankful to the librarians of NIRD, Hyderabad, TISS, Mumbai, Hyderabad Central University, Hyderabad, Roda Mistry of College of Social Work, Hyderabad, Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics, Pune, YASHADA, Pune, University of Pune, Dr. B. R. Ambedkar Research and Training Institute Pune and many such Institutions for their kind cooperation in allowing me to have access to the literature available in their respective libraries.

I wish to acknowledge an everlasting debt of gratitude to my parents particularly my ‘Ma’ who freed from this world very recently leaving me behind to accomplish her long cherished dream of making a just, egalitarian, equitable and exploitation free society.

I am equally indebted to my other family members, particularly, my elder brother Mr. Nagorao, who educated me in the renounced educational institutions in the City of Pune and Mumbai and made me a respectable man.

Last but not the least, special thanks to my wife ‘Radhika’ who computerized the whole data and typed the entire report of this thesis with keen interest and enthusiasm. Thank to Mr. Ganesh Dalvi from National Insurance Academy (NIA), Pune and Miss. Aayesha, EDP Unit staff of Roda Mistry College of Social Work and Research Centre, Hyderabad, who were involved in formatting the thesis.

Finally, I also thank to all my colleagues here in Pune, namely Dr. V. V. Kulkarni, Dr. B. A. Deshmukh, Dr. S. I. Kumbhar and Dr. B. T. Lawani for their encouragement during the completion of this study.

Pune

Kirtiraj D. C

Date: 22nd October, 2007