Acknowledgements

I wish to express my deepest gratitude to Dr. C. C. John, Retired Professor of Marine Biology and Fisheries Department of the University of Kerala, under whose guidance and supervision this work was carried out. I am indebted to him not only for his valuable suggestions and encouragement but also for reading through the manuscripts and making necessary corrections and alterations. I wish to thank also my colleagues Mr. K. G. Padmanabhan and Dr. P. A. John for their help during the preparation of the thesis. I am also grateful to Dr. C. W. Kurien, Professor of Marine Biology and Oceanography Department, for having given me all the necessary laboratory facilities to carry out this work, and to Dr. A. Abraham, Professor of the Botany Department for giving me facilities to take the photographs of the plates in his Department. I am also thankful to the University of Kerala for the award of a University Fellowship.
