ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I express my deep sense of gratitude to my guide and supervisor Prof. Bhim S. Dahiya first, for having suggested me the British Playwright Caryl Churchill as the subject of my Ph.D. thesis. His encouragement inspired me to read this totally new playwright whose play-texts were not even available in India five years back. My reading of Churchill, though still limited, changed my perspective of life and helped me to “see” the sexual politics pervading almost each aspect of a woman’s life. Prof. Dahiya’s valuable guidance helped me explore Churchill’s fascinating work.

I also express my heartfelt thanks to my Principal, Dr. Ms. Sushma Arya whose constant encouragement and regular prodding to complete my work in time really helped.

My thanks are due also to Dr. Tanu Gupta, Head, Department of English, M.M. University, Mullana for her cooperation and help during the entire project.

I wish to express my gratitude and thanks to my dear friend and colleague, Dr. Sudha Chugh who encouraged and inspired me and gave her valuable suggestions during long hours she devoted to a close reading of the each draft of this thesis.

My special thanks to my family – my mother, Mrs. Indra Rana who exempted me from most of my domestic duties and responsibilities so that I could concentrate on my work; my husband, Mr. Sanjeev Tomer who patiently accompanied me a number of times to crowded and congested lanes of Ansari Road, Delhi and different libraries in search of books; my daughter, Shivanshi who taught me a number of computer-jobs and never complained about the limited time I gave her during this period.

I also wish to express my thanks to Mr. Rajiv Kumar whose promptness and efficiency in typing contributed a lot in the timely submission of my thesis.
