In the completion of the present study, I sought the assistance, guidance and support from a number of people to whom I would like to express my deep gratitude. With all humility, first of all I am thankful to the God who has bestowed His blessings on me and gave me the courage to complete this work.

With an overwhelming sense of pride and genuine obligation, it is my privilege to express my gratitude and profound regards to Dr. Kamlesh Gakhar for her expert and ingenious guidance and constructive criticism, in preparation of this manuscript. Without her kind and patient instructions, it would have been impossible for me to complete the thesis. I am grateful for her unwavering and enthusiastic encouragement throughout the course of this study. I have been extremely lucky to have a supervisor who cared so much about my work, and who responded to my queries so promptly. In fact, I regard the elegant and graceful person as an epitome of knowledge.

I also extend my loyal and venerable thanks to Dr Neelam Jain, Prof. H.J. Ghosh Roy, Dr Rajkumar, Dr Neeraj Kaushik and Mr Bajaj for providing me the guidance and consistent encouragement. The directions provided by these eminent people have made the thesis seem uncomplicated.

I am indebted beyond words to my father-in-law, Sh. Bhartesh Jain and mother-in-law, Smt. Shobha Jain for bearing with my shortcomings in relating to them during this research, especially during the final touch to my work when I stayed at my parents’ home. I am blessed for having such a caring and loving family that supported me unconditionally.

This acknowledgement would be meaningless if I do not remember my parents To Whom I Owe My Identity, I have achieved so far, including the present work. Their blessings, love, care, encouragement and moral support have kept me in high spirits throughout my whole academic career. Taking over this tedious work was an inspiration from my mother, Ranjana. Through the years as I grew from her little girl into the person I am today, she has always been there with words of encouragement, guidance and support. I would also like to thank my father, Vijay Gupta, for his great motivation to finish the research.

I would also like to thank my siblings Himani and Anmol, who squeezed time from their studies and helped me finish my report while taking care of my son.

I would like to acknowledge my one-year old son, Samyak. While taking care of him made things a little challenging, his presence has provided so much joy and meaning to this entire journey of mine. It makes me laugh to see his excited look on the laptop when his little fingers try to operate the laptop.

Last, but not the least, I would like to acknowledge all those, who mean a lot to me and those whose name I might have forgotten to write in the manuscript.
