ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The present dissertation was undertaken under the research directions and guidance of Dr. M. Balaram Singh, M.A. Ph.D., Reader & Head, Department of Geography, Y.K. College, Wangjing, Manipur. In fact, the very idea of this research was first conceived by him and it was at his instance that I decided to undertake it. Though it was Dr. Singh who first suggested the subject to me, the details have been worked out by me in consultation with him, so that, while whatever merits and dissertation possesses may be attributed to him, I alone am responsible for the defects of which it contains none too few.

I admit that this work could not have been completed without the assistance, help and guidance of a number of friends, officials and administrators, teachers and colleagues to whom I owe a good deal. I would like to express my deepest gratitude to the various authors whose works, quoted at the appropriate places inside the present thesis, have inspired me to undertake the present work of research in understanding more logically the man-land relationship as fundamental aspect of geographical studies with special reference to the analysis of urban landscape of the region under study.

I very sincerely record my indebtedness to Dr. R.P. Singh, Professor & Head of the P.G. Department of Geography, Manipur University, Canchipur, Imphal for his constant encouragement and valuable suggestions. I was indeed inspired by his words of encouragement and directions given to me, wherever needed.

I owe my thanks to Shri R.K. Birendrakumar Singh, retired I.A.S. Officer to the Government of Manipur for going through the manuscript, and also to Shri L. Ibobi Singh, Principal, Vocational Training Institute, Uripok, Imphal for his excellent job of typing for my thesis.

My sincere thanks are due to Shri Shantikumar Singh, M.A. Geography, Cartographer of Kakwa Bazar, Imphal for the skill with which prepared the maps, graphs and diagrams.
Lastly, I must pay special tribute to the loving memory of my beloved younger brother Late MOIRANGTHEM PRIYOKUMAR SINGH son of Dr. M. Balaram Singh, who died on 15.7.1994 (Friday) while this thesis was in progress and I will be failing in my duties, if I do not express my gratefulness and sense of obligations to all the family members of Dr. Singh for their all-time enthusiastic encouragement and blessing so readily endowed on every critical movement.

Thoubal - 795138
3rd July '96

( Kh. Jugindro Singh )
Lecturer,
Thoubal College, Thoubal, Manipur.