SELECT BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. A.B. Shah, Tilak and Secularism, Art, in Political Thought and Leadership of Lok, Tilak, Please also refer to Gowardhan Parikh, Bharatiya Rashrawadache Shilpakar.

3. Acharya Jawadekar’s Foreword, to Prema kantak: Satyagrahi Maharashtra Jawadekar’s, Sulabh Rashtriya Granth mala, Pune, 1940.

4. Agarkar to Bhagwat, Agarkar Papers (8 September 1888), SIS, Poona.

5. B.G. Tilak, his Writings and Speeches, Ganesh & Co., Madras, Third Ed, July 1922.

30. K. S. Bharathi “The Political Thought of Lokmanya Bal Gangadhar Tilak”,

32. K.P. Karunakaran: Indian Politics from Naoroji to Gandhi, Gitanjali, Prakashan, new Delhi, 1975.

36. Ketkar, G.V., Real Basis of Tilak’s Nationalism.

44. Moin Shakir and J.R.Shinde, Tilak and the Question of Religious Politics in India (Article) in Inamdar (Ed),, Political Thought and Leadership of Lok Tilak.

58. Rajani Palme Dutt, India today, People’s publishing house Bombay 1947.

60. Raminder Kaur, Lokrnany Tilak on Karl Marx and Class Conflict South Asia Research; Vol 24 No 2, 1 Nov 2004.

74. Stanley A. Wolpert, Ti/ak and Gokha/e: revolution and reform in the making of modern India (1962).

75. The Columbia Encyclopedia, Tilak, Bal Gangadhar, 6th ed. 2013

76. Tilak, B.G., “Statement of reasons for his resignation from the Deccan Education Society”.

78. V.P. Varma, “Tilak’s Spiritual nationalism”, Article in Political Thought and Leadership of Lok.Tilak Ed, 1997.

Newspapers

1. The Hindu.
2. The Statesman.
3. Deccan Herald.
4. The Times of India.
5. The Hindustan Times.

Internet material