ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is a pleasure to express my indebtedness and to present the sense of deep gratitude to Dr. J.D. RANDE, M.Sc., Ph.D. (London), Professor and Head of the Department of Physics, University of Sagar, Sagar, (M.P.), India as his student. He offered me the opportunity to work under him, suggested the problem, and guided me through the difficult phases of the present work with his thorough insight in the subject.

I am highly obliged to Dr. R.V. JOSHI, Professor of Physics, M.S. University of Baroda, (Gujrat), India, for permitting me to work on the Thermoluminescence Apparatus under him, during my stay at Baroda. During the tenure of my work I received help from the staff members of the Physics Department of M.S. University of Baroda particularly from Dr. T.R. Joshi, Mr. R.C. Shah, Mr. Kekan, Mr. Prasad and I am thankful to them for their best co-operation.

The work brought me in contact with M/s N. George, V.R. Mahurkar, and Kishen Singh, who helped me in various stages of the work and I owe great many thanks to them.

My thanks are also due to my all friends and fellow research scholars at Sagar for their constant encouragement and co-operation during the tenure of my work.

(K.C. Shama)
