ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

To acknowledge the valuable guidance, inspiration, support and cooperation received from all persons, who supported and encouraged me constantly during my Ph. D. research work, is really a privilege received by the mercy of God.

First of all I would like to place on record my heart-felt gratitude to my learned supervisor, Professor (Dr.) R.K. Gupta, Director, Institute of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra, who despite his pre-occupied and busy schedule, obliged me always by sparing his valuable time to guide me moulding the shape of the thesis in present state. At the same time I enjoyed the freedom to get flourished my ideas. Without his worthy guidance I would not have been able to complete this work.

I am extremely thankful to Professor (Dr.) Rajpal Sharma, Chairman Department of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra, for his active and kind support throughout the work.

I am also thankful to Professor (Dr.) Vinod Rajdan, Dean, Department of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra and Professor (Dr.) Versha Rajdan, former Chairperson, Department of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra, for their able guidance to give right shape to my work.

I am grateful to the Worthy Chancellor of MM University, Mullana- Ambala, Shri Tarsem Garg Ji for establishing and maintaining policies for the academic growth and upliftment of the faculty members in the University that has proved of remarkable significance in the completion of my work. I also acknowledge the generous support and encouragement of Shri L. C. Gupta, Managing director of MM Trust, Mullana, Ambala during the whole course of my study.
I also record my deepest sense of gratitude to Prof. (Dr.) P. S. Jaswal, Vice-Chancellor, Rajiv Gandhi National University of Law, Patiala, for his ever-ready bouquet of blessings at every step of my carrier-path and especially to accomplish this task.

I am also really thankful to Prof. S. C. Gupta, Head, Department of Law, MMU Mullana-Ambala, for rendering me support and opportunity to complete my work in a positive and co-operative environment.

I owe more than I could express immense debt of my grandparents, parents, parents-in-law and relatives who showered me with their unconditional support, untold help and blessings to carry on this research work. Thank is always due to my husband Mr. Upendra Jindal and because of his kind and able support I can proudly reframe the phrase like this, “There is always a man behind the success of a woman.” I am also indebted to my loving daughters Rachita, Kaushiki and Manasvi, who co-operated and helped me in different ways and above all by providing me their tender affection and care during the completion of work. I also present my thanks to all the family members for their valuable cooperation.

I also express my thanks to the Library staff of the Department of Law, Institute of Law, Central Library, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra; State Library, Ambala Cantt; Department of Laws, Panjab University, Chandigarh and Rajiv Gandhi National University of Law, Patiala. My sincere thanks is also due to, staff of Library and Computer Lab of Department of Law, MMU Mullana, Ambala for their help and support, and Mr. Balvinder Dhiman, who helped me a lot in typing and presenting the thesis in present shape. The staff of the Department of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra has also been very supportive during whole of my present study.
I also wish to extend my thanks to my friends and colleagues Dr. Richa, Principal, Swami Devi Dayal College of Law, Barwala (Panchkula); Ms. Gaganpreet and Ms. Shweta Dhaliwal, Assistant Professors, Rajiv Gandhi National University of Law, Patiala; and all colleagues of Department of Law, MMU, Mullana, for their encouragement and support during the research work.

I owe special thanks and heartfelt gratitude for my spiritual Guruji Srimad Bhaktivedanta Siddhanti Ji Maharaj, for his abundant blessings without which I would not have been able to complete this work.

Above all, I thank Lord Krishna for providing me the opportunity and insight to complete the work according to best of my abilities and always showering His mercy and care with free hand for me and all.
