Acknowledgement

At the outset, let me humbly confess that the present work has been possible only because of the collective effort of a number of people who helped me in more than one way. I place Prof. (Dr.) A. N. Singh my guide, on the top of this hierarchy. His inspiring supervision, stimulating encouragement and valuable comments throughout the entire course of this investigation enabled me in accomplish this work. His personal concern and constant inspiration has always instilled a great sense of confidence in me. It was only because of his scholarly guidance that the present work reached its final stage of completion.

I express my profound sense of indebtedness to Dr. Darshan Singh, Former Chairperson, Social Work, Department for providing me a free access and guidance regarding the present research work.

I am grateful to Dr. K. K. Singh, Former Additional Director, NIPCCD, New Delhi who encouraged me to undertake the present research work.

I am grateful to Prof. C. P. Singh, the present Chairman of the Department of Social Work, Kurukshetra University for providing guidance and encouragement and valuable suggestions to complete the work.

I appreciate the express my gratitude to all the faculty department of Social Work, Kurukshetra University for valuable comments and suggestions.

I am grateful to the authorities of Department of Women and Child Development, Govt. of NCT and different homes who made possible for collection of data pertaining to children in conflict with law.

I acknowledge my thanks to Sh. Devender Diwedi, Indore and Sh. Anil Kumar, Chandigarh who helped in tabulation and analysis work.

(PRITAM KAUR)