The areas shown in bright green (Sinai, Golan Heights, Gaza, West Bank and East Jerusalem) were occupied by Israel during the 6-day war in 1967. Israel has since returned all of Sinai to Egypt in return for peace. Most of Gaza is currently under the jurisdiction of the autonomous Palestinian Authority (2002). Parts of the West Bank had been ceded to the Palestinian authority following the Oslo II Agreement, but these areas are currently re-occupied by Israel. Following the 6 day war, Israel began building settlements in these areas.