ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would be remiss if I do not first confess that the present study is an effort made by me with the astute guidance of my mentor, Prof. (Dr.) V. K. Agarwal, formerly Professor & Chairman, Department of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra, presently Vice-Chancellor, Jagan Nath University, Jaipur. His valuable inputs and constant encouragement has inspired me to carry out this study fruitfully. He, being an unpathomable reservoir of wisdom, gave me his precious time to discuss the various facets of this topic and guided me towards an enlightening and holistic research. To write something about his intellectual contribution in the present study is a task which can not be put into the straight jacket formula of 26 letters of English.

I will be failing in my duty if I forget the name of Prof. M.C. Sharma, Hon’ble Member (Full time), Law Commission of India, who during his tenure as Vice-Chancellor of Central University of Haryana made me read, write, research and many more which helped me substantially in the present study.

I also put on record my gratitude towards Prof. B. R. Saini, Chairperson, Department of Law who very generously spared time to assist me on all fronts. No less is my gratitude to Prof. V. K. Razdan, Dean, Department of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for being so generous to me all the time. I owe my sincere thanks to the Library Staff of Department of Law at Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for assisting me at the storehouse of knowledge with a pindrop silence.

I am indebted towards Central University of Haryana, for providing me an opportunity to carry forward my research study with a multidisciplinary approach, particularly Library staff. Further, it is my bound duty to express my sincere thanks to the Indian Law Institute, New Delhi, for providing me an opportunity to have a learning experience as a knowledge seeker.

And finally, I would like to thank the members of my family; my parents and my wife for their consistent support and encouragement, even on those weekends when I should have been at some picnic spot with them instead of at the manuscript writing about present study. While all these individuals helped me with this study, I would like to make clear that any errors herein remain my own.
