BIBLIOGRAPHY

7. Audinarayana N (1997) Female age at marriage and its determinants in an urban community of Tamil Nadu, Janasamkya, XV – XVIII.

iv

care in India’s family welfare programme. The challenge ahead, population Council, New York.

75. Indian Council for Medical Research (1996). An Indian perspective on unsafe abortion, IPPF Medical Bulletin, 30 (6). International Institute for Century, paper presented at the IUSSP, seminar on family planning in the 21st Century, Dhaka, Bangladesh.

102. Mala Ramanathan, P. Sankara Sarma and Krishnakumar (2004), Situational Analysis o MTP services in Kerala: Provider perspectives Achutha Menon Centre for Health Science Studies. SCTIM ST, Trivandrum

117. Nair, S. N. and P. S. Nair (1998) A study on reproductive behaviour and reproductive health of women in Kerala, population research centre, University of Kerala, Thiruvananthapuram

127. Pachauri, S. (1998b) unmet reproductive and sexual health needs in South Asia, Journal of health and population in developing countries, 1 (2) reprinted in S. Pachauri (Ed.) Implementing a Reproductive health

146. Rani, Manju and Sekhar Bonu (2003) “Rural Indian Women’s care – seeking Behaviour and choice of providers for Gynecological symptoms”, Studies in Family Planning, Volume 34, number 3 (September).

Human Development in India, Project of the United Nations Development Programme.

Vietnam; are there equal opportunities to plan and protect pregnancies?
Journal of Epidemiological Community Health, 50 (4).

169. Ubaidullah, M. and V. V. Kumari (1997), Age at Marriage and reproductive health, paper presented at IASP conference coimbatore.

