ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the outset, let me bow my head in the feet of the Almighty God for enabling me to rove my canoe in his ocean of knowledge.

It is with profound sense of gratitude I place on record my acknowledgement to Dr. Sobha B. Nair, Assistant Professor and Head, Department of Sociology, University of Kerala, for her excellent guidance for my research work. As my research supervisor, she has constantly forced me to remain focused on achieving my goal. Her observations and comments helped me to establish the overall direction of the research and to move forward with investigation in depth. Beyond everything, her complimenting behaviour and friendly approach have very much inspired me. I fail to find words to express my gratitude to her.

I gratefully acknowledge Dr. P.K.B. Nayar (Former Head of the Department of Sociology and Dean of the faculty of Social Sciences) for his constant support and encouragement throughout the course of study. His apt comments and analytical explanations had always been a motivation to fulfill this work. Let me take this opportunity to extend my deep felt obligations to my teacher for his constant encouragement, keen interest, confidence, care and love and singular attention shown through the study.

I have to acknowledge Dr. Indukumari, Professor and Head (Retd.), Department of Sociology, University of Kerala for helping me to design this research work at the earlier stages. She was a strong motivation force throughout this research work. The readinesses to find solution for my research problems inspite of his busy schedule in those days are greatly acknowledged.
I also acknowledge Dr. Manu Bhaskar, Professor and Head (Retd.), Department of Sociology, University of Kerala for providing me facilities and encouragement in the completion of this work.

I sincerely acknowledge teachers of the Department of Sociology, University of Kerala – Smt. Pushpam, Dr. Merlin, Dr. Bushra for their best wishes and encouragements.

I am very grateful to Dr. Jyothy S. Nair, who has been a constant inspiration throughout the work, with critical comments and research advices. I have had the pleasure of working with a number of very talented and energetic people in the Department of Sociology.

My family has always been an important source of encouragement and support. It gives me immense pleasure to thank my Father, Mother, My brothers and the other in-laws.

I am highly proud of my husband Mr. Vinoj L. S. He is my source of strength and without his earnest support this thesis would never have taken the present shape. I am also highly indebted to my daughter Theerdha Vinoj and son Siva Vinoj for tolerating my absence in home.

Finally, I extend my thanks to each and every one who have helped in someway or other in this endeavor.

KAVITHA V.
