ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to acknowledge all the individuals without whom this thesis would not have been possible.

It has been an honour to have a mentor like Moses Karakhanawala sir who is a friend, philosopher and a guide in true sense. I would like to also thank my guide, Dr. Ila Joshi for providing valuable guidance during the course of my work and Dr. Subhash Joshi, whom I have always looked up to.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the officials of MICA-KEIC for providing constant inputs required for the study and like to express my gratitude to all the respondents of this study for having patience and co-operation, without which the data collection for the research would not have been possible.

My entire family, mum-pa, didi and himbhai need a special mention here for having an undoubting faith in me, especially during the times I doubted my abilities. The words would never be sufficient to express gratitude to their contribution in shaping up not just this piece of research but shaping up my quest for research.

Krishna Kanabar
September, 2009