ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The completion of my dissertation and subsequent Ph.D. has been a long journey. It’s true that “Life is what happens”. When you are completing your dissertation, Life doesn’t stand still nor wait until you are furnished and have time to manage it.

First and foremost I want to thank my almighty “Sai nath” who always acts as an inspiration and had filled me with zeal and compassion to work whole heartedly with full dedication and devotion towards the linear karma.

I like to give heartfelt, special thanks to my learned supervisor Dr. N.S.K. Harsh, Scientist-G, Forest Pathology Division, Forest Research Institute (F.R.I.), Dehradun. It has been an honour to be his Ph.D. scholar under his precious guidance. I found myself totally safe and secure to bloom with the flowers of mystique. He had filled me with cognizance towards that unveiled success which promoted me dimensionally towards my growth and aura. I appreciate all his contributions to time and ideas for making my Ph.D. experience productive and stimulating. The joy and enthusiasm he has for his research was contagious and motivational for me, even during very tough times in the Ph.D. pursuit. I am also thankful for the excellent examples he had provided as a successful scientist and tree surgeon.

I pay my sincere gratitude to Dr. Lokho Puni Mao, Ex. Head Non Wood Forest Product Division, Forest Research Institute (F.R.I.), Dehradun for his valuable guidance, support and cooperation during the field trials phase of the research study.

I am bereft of words to acknowledge my thanks to Dr. P. P. Bhojvaid, Director, F.R.I., for providing necessary facilities during the course of research.

I owe my sincere thanks to Dr. A.K. Tripathi, Registrar, F.R.I. Deemed University, Dehradun for permitting me to take up this assignment.

I offer my sincere thanks to Dr. Amit Pandey, Scientist-F/Head, Dr. Y.P. Singh, Scientist-E, Dr. Ashwini Tapwal, Scientist-D, Forest Pathology Division for their encouragement and valuable suggestions during the course of study.
I am highly indebted to Mr. Raman Nautiyal, Scientist-E, Statistical Branch, I.C.F.R.E., Dehradun for his valuable guidance for statistical analysis of the experimental data.

No endeavour can be satisfactorily completed, without constant effort and cooperation of authorities, elders, friends and associates, no matter where the person stands. I would like to express my gratitude to all those who have helped me in completing this research study.

I must express my sincere thanks to all other persons who directly or indirectly with his or her labour, advice and suggestion specially Mr. Suresh Chandra, Mrs. Ranjana, Research officer, Forest Pathology Division, Mr. H.K.Gupta, Mr. Anil Kumar Khaneja, Mr. Vijay Kumar, Sh. Rajeev Kumar Ahuja, Mr. Nagendra Singh and Mrs. Pratima for successful completion of all laboratory works. I am also obliged to the members of the Forest Pathology Division, Shri Chandan Mani Pant, Mr. Deepak, Mr. Sanjay, Mr. Prahlad and Mr. Ravi for their help during the mist chamber and field trials experiments.

The members of F.R.I. Forest Pathology Division have contributed immensely to my personal and professional at F.R.I. Dehradun. The group has been a source of friendships as well as good advice and collaboration.

I am highly thankful to my seniors especially Dr. Vishal Kumar, Dr. Partha Sarathi Mohanty, Dr. Varun Kumar, Dr. Sona Singh, Mrs. Shailja Rawat, Mr. Rajendra Prasad, Ms. Jyoti Bisht, Mrs. Kanika Sharma, Mr. Dinesh Panwar, Mr. Manoj Kumar and Ms. Pallavi Bhatia for their kind help and constant moral support during this study. I am also grateful to Dr. Sajla Mishra, Dr. Sangeeta Uniyal, Mr. Solomon Das, Mr. Kartik Uniyal, Ms. Archna Bagwari and Ms. Kavita for their assist and support.

I have appreciated the biggest support laid in by my second god my lovely and all time favourite Mumma and Papa without whom nothing is possible in this world for me. In every ups and downs throughout the journey of my Ph.D. they had provided me to stay in equilibria. I sincerely dedicate my thesis to them as they are the real deservable personality for this nobility.
Lastly, I would like to thank my sweet, adorable and intellectual brother for all his admiration, benignity and encouragement.

I have appreciated the camaraderie and local expertise of my brother, Siddharth who groomed and rejuvenate my ideologies and helped me to give my best in every verge of completion of my Ph.D.

For my family I am thankful to them who raised me with a love of science and supported me in all my pursuit.

I thanks to all who have ever encountered during my journey of bonhomie Ph.D.
