Contents

Acknowledgement i
Abstract iv
Abbreviations viii

Chapter 1: Introduction
1.1 Status scenario of Girl child 1
1.2 Status of women- - Anchoring perpetuation 8
1.3 women and Patriarchy- - A social norm to encounter 10
1.4 Women in Empowerment- - Being in a process 15
1.5 Self-help Group- -Experiencing Self in a Group 17

Chapter 2: Review of Literature
2.1 Status of Girl Children 29
  2.1.1 Accessing nutrition and health care 30
  2.1.2 Educating girl child 34
  2.1.3 Participating in domestic activities 36
  2.1.4 Getting married early 39
2.2 Women Empowerment through Self-help Group 44
  2.2.1 Self-help group women and Economic Independence 44
  2.2.2 Self-help group women and Social Capital 48
  2.2.3 Self-help group women and Decision Making 48
  2.2.4 Self-help group women and Self Confidence. 49
  2.2.5 Women’s Participation in Political Sphere. 51
  2.2.6 Self-help group women and Awareness. 51
  2.2.7 Self-help group and the role of NGO 52
  2.2.8 Empowerment through SHG - Not an elixir. 53
  2.2.9 Impact of empowered mothers on girl children. 56

Chapter 3: Methodology
3.1 Rational for the Research 58
3.2 Objective of the study 59
3.3 Designing the study 60
3.4 Collection of Data- Methods and tools used 67

Chapter 4: Data Analysis – Results & Discussion.
4.1 Profiles of the participants – 80
SHG women

- Bina towards her daughter Disha: A propagator of SHG and is determined to prepare her daughter for any crisis in life

- Alpana towards her daughter Nupur: Leading a federation of SHG and determined to invest all her savings on education of two daughters

- Saroja towards her daughter Tanya: Enthusiastic about small saving SHG offers and valuing time for the education of her children than anything else

- Devika towards her daughter Lopa: Experiencing avenues of earning through SHG and determined to support her daughter’s vocational education

- Anjana towards her daughter Lavanya: Supports the family and determined to make her daughter self-reliant.

- Namita towards her daughter Tanvi: Sincere, hardworking and determined to educate her daughters.

- Damini towards her daughter Tripti: Active, outgoing and determined to support the education of her daughter despite erratic income of the family.

Non-SHG women

- Dhanshri towards her daughter Shaili: Dismisses SHG as a structure for empowerment but dreams to fulfill all the demands of her only daughter.

- Nisha towards her daughter Unnati: Finds difficult in transitioning herself from very long confinement but encourages her daughter to fulfill the dream set by her father.

- Charu towards her daughter Chhavi: Precarious financial condition compelled her to push her daughter into a kind of bonded labour

- Bhaavani towards her daughter Laxmi: Happily accepted the status gifted to her by her husband and sets a goal at par with sons for her daughter

- Bela towards her daughter Aarzoo: Subverting patriarchy from within but dreams a different and better life for her daughter

- Achala towards her daughter Neha: Nourishing patriarchy silently, but dreams better status for her daughter

- Bijula towards her daughter Shital: hopeful of joining SHG one day but carries the traditional gender biased role for her daughter
4.2 Emerging themes

4.2.1 Theme 1: Empowerment through SHG --- A structure to Rediscover herself

-4.2.1.1 Crisis - Attitudinal Predilections
-4.2.1.2 SHG as the a proximal structural arrangement – a ray of hope
-4.2.1.3 Increasing familial cohesion and happiness
-4.2.1.4 Building self-confidence- Exploring her abilities to face the world.
-4.2.1.5 Decision making- Status enhancement

4.2.2 Theme 2: Empowered Mother-Aspiring and nurturing the Girl child.

-4.2.2.1 Aspiration chased by tender mind
-4.2.2.2 Nourishing preadolescence with education (formal/vocational)-making way to financial independence
-4.2.2.3 Nourishing preadolescence with nutrition and health-A reflection on food habit, awareness and affordability at large.
-4.2.2.4 Getting help from small hand- participation in domestic. activities- It’s facets

4.2.3 Theme 3: Empowerment is a process- It’s translation and factors at play.

-4.2.3.1 Girl child- Looking up to mother
-4.2.3.2 SHG is a structure on play
-4.2.3.3 Location- Adds advantage to the attitude towards daughter
-4.2.3.4 Gender disparity- A spontaneous and unintentional reflection in Upbringing.
-4.2.3.5 Patriarchy- A ubiquitous dimension on play on status of mother

Chapter 5: Summary, Conclusion, Limitation and Recommendation

5.1 Summary & Conclusion
5.2 Limitation
5.3 Recommendation

Appendices
References