BIBLIOGRAPHY
SELECT BIBLIOGRAPHY

I. Books and Articles by Philip Larkin:

'Betjeman En Bloc', review of John Betjeman, Collected Poems, Listen, 3 (Spring 1959) 14-22.

'The Blending of Betjeman', review of John Betjeman, Summoned by Bells and First and Last Loves, in Spectator, 2 Dec 1960, p.913.

'Philip Larkin Praises the Poetry of Thomas Hardy', Listener, 25 July 1968, p.111.

'Subsidies and Side Effects', speech on the occasion of accepting the Shakespeare Prize, Times Literary Supplement, 18 Feb 1977, p.183.

II. Articles on Philip Larkin:

Amis, Kingsley, 'Farewell to a Friend', Observer, Sunday; 8 December 1985, p.22.

Anon, 'In the Movement', Spectator, 1 Oct 1954, 399-400.

Bateson, F.W., 'Auden's (and Empson's) Heris', review of The Less Deceived and Donald Davie's Brides of Reason, in Essays in Criticism, 7 (1957) 76-80.

Morrison, Blake, 'Unrequired Writing', Observer, Sunday, 8 December, 1985, p. 22.

____, 'A Salute to the Makers', Details of source unknown.

III. Books on Philip Larkin and Other Books:

Hardy, Thomas., Chosen Poems of Thomas Hardy (1916 rpt., London: Macmillan 1931).

Motion, Andrew., Philip Larkin (London and New York: Methuen, 1982).

----, ed. Larkin at Sixty (London: Faber and Faber, 1982).

