Acknowledgements

It is a great pleasure to express my heartfelt gratitude to all those, whose advices and encouragement helped me a lot and who always stood beside me during the course of my thesis work.

I would like to thank my supervisor, Prof. A. Jayaraman, for his guidance during my research work at PRL. He is the first person who introduced me to the world of scientific research. With his constant help, inspiration and support I could successfully complete my thesis. He was always accessible and willing to help during all these years. As a result, my doctoral research tenure at PRL was smooth and rewarding.

I am grateful to Prof. Shyam Lal and Prof. M.M. Sarin for their encouragement and all the support during my thesis work. My special thanks to Profs. H. Chandra and S. Ramachandran for their valuable suggestions and the scientific discussions. I also thank Rajesh, Venkatramani, Modh Bhai and Sunil for their help during all my experiments.

My sincere thanks to Dr. H. Gadhavi (Harish Bhai) who was always present in need. I learnt a lot working with him. My special thanks to Lokesh (loku-sir), Neeraj, Dilip, Amit, Ranga, Sudheer, Ashwini, Kirpa, Sumita for the various scientific discussions.
I acknowledge Land Processes Distributed Active Archive Center (LPDAAC) of EOS, NASA for proving the land surface reflectance data used in the study. Acknowledgements are due to Air Resources Laboratory, NOAA, USA for providing the HYSPLIT model and the wind data used in the air back-trajectory analysis and NOAAClRES Climate Diagnostic Center, USA for providing NCEP reanalysis data over various study regions.

I would like to thank Som Kumar Sharma (Sharma-ji), Drs. Dibyendu Chakrabarty (Dipu-da), Varun Sheel, Anirban Das (Anirban-da) for their valuable advices, encouragement and for always making the environment lively.

I wish to thank my dear friends Subimal, Shreyas, Satya and Subhasis who made my life enjoyable and refreshing. I am also grateful to all the PRL football, volleyball, cricket team members and TT co-players for providing great fun and entertainment.

I am grateful to the PRL library for providing valuable books, journals, scientific papers. Thanks to PRL transport officers and drivers for their help and cooperation during my scientific field works.

Thanks are due to all my colleagues at Mt. Abu: Rajesh-bhai, Mathur-ji, Purohit-ji, Jain-ji, Kothari-ji, Pitamber-ji, Naran Singh and Padam Singh for their support during my observations at Gurushikhar. I would like to thank Prof. P. Venkatakrishnan, A. Ambastha, Drs. Nandita Srivastava, Shibu K. Mathew, Brajesh Kumar and Sanjay Gosain for their warm welcome and logistic support during my campaign at Udaipur and my colleagues Sanjeev, Rohan, Ram and Anand who made a homely atmosphere during my stay. I thank Dr. R. Baskaran and his IGCAR-RSD coworkers whose cooperation and logistic support during my campaign at Kalpakkam helped me in producing fruitful results that became an important part of my thesis. I am also thankful to all scientists of NARL, Gadanki, especially Drs. Nirvikar, Alok, Ratnam and Sridharan for providing me a friendly atmosphere during my stay at Tirupati.

I am indebted to my M. Sc. friends Biswajit, Raj and Kadir for providing a stimulating and fun environment in which I learnt and grew.

Words are not sufficient to express my thanks to my loving wife, friend and colleague Uma for her constant unconditional support and helping me to successfully finish my thesis and being always beside me during my Ph.D work. I am the proud father of my little son, Adi whose smiles were perineal source of energy after long hours of daily research work.

I wish to thank my dear sisters, Suchitra and Moutusi and my younger brother-in-law, Prosun. I deeply express my thanks to my (Late) grandmother who left all of us with her sweet memories. I am thankful to my parents-in-law for providing conducive family atmosphere and my cute sister-in-law, Kousi for her cheerfulness.

I would not be sitting in front of my computer typing these acknowledgements without Maa and Baba. I am indebted to them for their love, support, and their paramount confidence in me. My parents have always put education as a first priority in my life, and raised me to set high goals and work hard to achieve them. They taught me to value honesty, courage, and humility above all other virtues in life. They have always been with me as an unwavering support. I dedicate my thesis to them.
