Acknowledgement

This work took shape and became a tangible reality, undoubtedly, by the sincere support and unalloyed cooperation extended to me by many individuals and institutions. It is a matter of regret that I will not be able to list them all here.

I consider myself fortunate to have got acquainted with an established academic, eminent Economist and a committed feminist like Prof. Dr. Vibhuti Patel (Director, PG and Research Centre, SNDT University, Mumbai) as the guide to my Ph.D. programme. Working with her by itself was a rich experience, apart from sharing views and learning, as she is the rare combination of academic excellence and social activism.

My sense of obligation has no bounds when I recall the gesture of goodwill, the management of our college exhibited in allowing me to go on FDP leave and complete the work. They were magnanimous to go for a substitute appointment in my absence. I would like to mention Dr. U. Prabhakar Rao (Founder President of Dombivali Shikshan Prasarak Mandal), Shri. Abasaheb Patwari (Secretary) Dr. Arvind Pradhan (Former Secretary) and Shri. Prabhakar Desai, Present Chairman of Dombivali Shikshan Prasarak Mandal in this matter. I specially thank Shri. Gajananrao Pendharkar (President of Dombivali Shikshan Prasarak Mandal) and Shri. Sanjeev Pendharkar for their valuable guidance and cooperation.

Dr. Mangala Sinnarkar, the Principal of our college highly motivated me with her interest in my work. I will be failing in my sense of gratitude if I do not mention her on this occasion.

Dr. Suvarna S. Deo, present In-charge Principal has always been inspiring spirit behind me and my work. I do remember her contribution in making this work a reality.

I express a deep sense of gratitude towards Dr. Bagool, Former Head of Botany Department, who was the motivating and driving force behind my research work.
Many individuals who are not directly related with my work or this institution also have made their contribution in finalizing this work. Dr. Raghunathan, Professor of Biostatistics at Michigan University, has been kind enough to spare his valuable time for replying my e-mails and gave his approval for the statistical analysis of the data. I thank him for his goodwill. Dr.Ms.Mule, Retd. Professor of Gokhale Institute of Economics and Politics and Dr. LeenaThatte, Head of the Department of Economics at Vaze College were always available for telephonic discussion and guidance. Detailed discussion with Shri.AnandJalukar, Director, Vidyanand Laboratory, Khardi gave me new insight into the problems faced by Ayurvedic drug manufacturers.

Among the series of scholars, academics and professionals who openheartedly extended their help and guidance are Prof. K.G. Pangarkar, Dr.SachinBaxi, Dr.VinayVelankar, Practitioner of Ayurvedic medicines, Dr.SmitaRaste, Ayurvedic Drug Manufacturer. On the eve of submitting my thesis I recollect their goodwill and readiness to help.

My work has made use of the data provided by Food and Drug Administration. In this connection I thank Dr. Walchali, Licensing Authority at FDA and his team for providing me the latest data about the Ayurvedic Drug Manufacturers in Thane District.

I have to also express my obligation to the Librarian of K.V. Pendharkar College, Ms. AmalaPatwardhan who allowed me to use library books for unlimited time period. I take this opportunity to thank library staff of J. N.Library at Kalina campus of University of Mumbai, Velingkar Institute Library and Jamnalal Bajaj Institute of Management Library.

I wish to thank all my friends from the bottom of my heart, for their moral support and encouragement during my difficult days. Dr. NeelimaDiwakar and
Dr. Auradha Ranade provided valuable assistance in completing my research work in time.

This research work is a tribute to my father and father-in-law who could see some untapped potential inside me.

Finally I thank my husband who provided cooperation and strong support throughout my journey towards my goal and showed me the direction like lighthouse in the adverse situation. It is his ideology of positive thinking which took me ahead on the path of my goal. I am very glad to say that my research work would not have completed without the cooperation of my son who was deprived of my company for quite a long time. I am grateful to my daughter Sneha who was my Guru in the process of making me computer friendly and getting acquaintance with all latest softwares.

Thank you once again..
