ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I have no words with which to thank my respected Guide Prof. N. R. Sheth for his encouragement and guidance at all the stages of this research study. He has been a great source of inspiration throughout the period of almost five years of this study. I shall always remain indebted to him for his most valuable guidance for initiation and completion of this study.

I sincerely thank Prof. Dhaval Mehta of the B. K. School of Management for his advice; and the staff of the post graduate section of the Gujarat University, particularly Mr. Modi for their whole-hearted cooperation during the course of this research study. Mr. Wolfgang Stein, Past President of the International Council for Education of the People with Visual Impairment and father of integrated education who provided the most valuable guidance in designing the research study deserves my very special thanks. I acknowledge the most valuable assistance of Mr. Satish Deshpande. Statistician of the Ahmedabad Textile Research Association for providing me excellent guidance for various statistical tools and research methodology.

The doctoral thesis has been possible largely due to the patient support, understanding and encouragement of the various marvellous persons of the Blind Men's Association. Padmashri Jagdish K. Patel, General Secretary; Mrs. Bhadraben Satia, Secretary; Mrs. Nandlaliben P. Munshaw, Secretary; Mr. Harish M. Panchal, Director (Training); Mrs. Nandlaliben S. Rawal, Project Director; Mrs. Vimal B. Thawani, Vocational Counsellor; Mr. Akhil Paul, Project Co-ordinator deserve my overwhelming gratitude for their cooperation.

I sincerely acknowledge the support of Mr. D. Nagarajan, Regional Director, and B.D. Thanawal, Director (Finance & Administration), both of Sight Savers; Prof. Prabhakar, Head, Department of Rehabilitation, Holy Cross College, Tiruchirapalli; Mr. Suresh C. Ahuja, Past Executive Director and Mr. Subhash Datrange, Executive Director, National Association for the Blind; Mrs. Shushma Sharma, Reader, Kurukshetra University; Lt. Col. A. K. Verma, Director, Mr. V. S. Rawat, Librarian and Mr. T. B. Singh, Clinical Psychologist, Mr. Ramesh Saxena, of the National Institute for the Visually Handicapped, Dehradun; Prof. M. J. Tobin, Director, Special Education, Birmingham University; Dr. M.N.G. Mani, Project Director, Ramakrishna Mission Vidyalaya, Coimbatore; Prof. N. K. Jangira, Head, Teacher Education, and Mr. C. D. Tamboli, Reader in Special Education, National Council for Educational Research and Training; Mrs. Rehmat Fazelbhoi, Mother Superior to me; Mr. Kenneth Stuckey, Research Librarian, Samuel P. Haynes Library, Perkins School for the Blind, Director; American Foundation for the Blind, U.S.A.; Director, Royal National Institute for the Blind, U. K.; Mr. Kirk Horton, Hilton Perkins International, Bangkok; and Executive Director, Burwood Educational Centre for Blind Children. All of them enabled me to compile latest published material pertaining to education of the visually handicapped. Without their support it would never have been possible to get insight into the existing scenario on education of the visually handicapped. All of them deserve my sincere gratitude and thanks for their tangible support to this research study.

Miss Tejal Lakhia deserves my sincere thanks for assisting me in compilation of data, Gujarati translation of the tests and secretarial assistance all through the research study. Mr. Kanubhai A. Thaker, Mr. Durlabh Patel, Ms. Chetna Parekh, Mr. F. J. Porwal and Mr. Bhupendra Patel are to be thanked for assisting me in the adaptation of the Tooze Braille Speed Test and Gujarati translation of other material.

Mr. Nainesh Purohit deserves my appreciation and thanks for developing a variety of computer software, for assisting me in computer-based analysis of data and for printing the thesis. Mrs.
Leelamma Thomas, Mrs. Lalitha, Mr. Pradeep Shah, Mr. Damjibhai Tank, Naranbhai and Suresh deserve special thanks for their painstaking efforts in the computerization, word processing, printing and binding of the thesis and for secretarial assistance. I thank all other staff members of the Blind Men's Association for helping me to complete this research study.

I also express my gratitude to the organizers of integrated education, principals of the residential schools, Mr. C. M. Shah, Director and other officials of the Department of Social Defence, and all the concerned teachers, parents and staff members for their valuable support in compilation of data and for providing me access to wonderful blind children who constituted the soul of this study. In fact, without the whole hearted support, openness and painstaking efforts of these children, this study would have lost its purpose. I enjoyed every moment I spent talking to these children. I sincerely thank all of them and wish them all the best in their educational career.

Last but not the least, I am indebted to my family members, particularly my beloved wife Hansa, daughter Shachi, and niece Bina without whose support and sacrifice this research study would never have been possible.

I dedicate this doctoral thesis to all those blind children who are not fortunate enough and have no hope for their education at present. I sincerely pray that wisdom would prevail upon the planners, organizers and educators of special education and these children would also walk to a nearby school 'without holding hand' of another child.
