Acknowledgement

I take this opportunity to express my heartfelt gratitude and thanks to my guide, my teacher and my senior colleague Dr. (Mrs) Buno Zetsuvi, who has been not only a guide to me but has been the greatest information to bring out this study from the inception of the research work till the end. She has given me useful suggestions, timely guidance and corrections which brought about this work to the present form.

I would like to thank Prof. R.P Shukla, who has been my co-guide, for all his guidance, help and constructive criticisms which has helped me immensely in selecting my topic and in formulating my questionnaires and to start my research work.

I also want to convey my special thanks to my teachers and senior colleagues like, Prof. Imtisangba, Dr. Buno Legiese, and Dr. Lungsang Zeliang who have helped me in shaping of ideas and giving useful suggestions throughout the period of my study.

My sincere thanks go to all my teaching colleagues, who could bear my absence from duty during my study leave by sharing the responsibility and providing constant encouragement and help to complete my work.

I want to specially thank all the participants in my research work who have responded to my questionnaires and also the village elders of the four Angami groups (Western, Southern, Northern and Chakro), who have spared their time to be interviewed during my study. Without them it would not have been possible to carry out the research work.

I would be failing in my duty, if I don't convey my thanks to my family members, who not only encouraged but supported me throughout my research work. Special thanks to my brother Zavishio Khieya, for his patience and helping in printing the whole research work, to my sister Nino Khieya Kuotsu for correcting the Angami spellings of my research and my brother-in-law Visizo Mero for the Photography and printing.

Last but not the least, I would like to thank my beloved mother for bearing with me inspite of her ill health and tolerated my absence during my research work. With her blessings and God's abundant grace I could complete this study in time.
