ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The successful completion of the research study would not have been possible without the support and encouragement of many people. For those individuals whom I could not mention here, I would like each of you to know that your interest and knowledge greatly assisted me in the successful completion of my study. I am immensely thankful to my guide and mentor Dr. Wangshimenla Jamir for the constant encouragement, valuable suggestions, advices and insights given to me during the course of the study leading to the development of this thesis.

Prof. Lanusosang has always been an inspiration to me and I am thankful to him for the encouragement and support given to me from the initial to the final stage of the Research study. I also express my gratitude to Prof. Sangyu Yaden, Prof. M. S. Rawat, Dr. Lanusashi Longkumer, Dr. Toiho and Late Dr. Isatoli Kibami for molding and equipping me with the knowledge required for carrying out the study. I also wish to thank the non-teaching staff of the department of Geography for their co-operation and help received during the course of my study.

I am also thankful to the various Government departments such as the Department of Forest, Ecology, Environment and Wildlife, Department of Land Resources, Department of Agriculture, Transport department, Nagaland GIS and Remote Sensing Centre, Directorate of Census Operations, Department of Education, Department of Soil and Water Conservation, etc. for their co-operation and assistance in providing me with the study materials required for the purpose of the research study.

I express my sincere gratitude to Dr. Supongtemjen for assisting me with the preparation of various maps and for the valuable suggestions. Dr. Furkumzuk and Dr.
Soyhunlo Sebu have always been there for me when I needed their help and for which I am thankful to them. My sincere thanks to Mr. Steve Odyuo and Mr. Thungben Yanthan for granting me permission to use some of their photographs in the thesis.

Special thanks to Mr. Wopansow Ngullie, my maternal uncle and Mr. Chumcanthung Jungio, my younger brother for the company and assistance given to me during the field study. I would also like to sincerely thank Mr. N. Ralamo Jungio, my paternal uncle for providing me a vehicle which had enabled me to visit all the sample villages without any difficulties. I am also thankful to Mr. Vanphio Jungio and family for their help and hospitality rendered to me during the field study.

The research study would not have been successful without the active participation of the respondents from the sample villages. I am thankful to all of them, especially the village chairmen and the Gaon Buras for taking the trouble of mobilizing the respondents and making the arrangements for the interviews and group discussions.

I owe special thanks to my parents, siblings, in-laws, relatives and friends for their constant Prayers, love, support and encouragement. Above all, I am extremely thankful to Mrs Wonchiben, my beloved wife and Mhadeno and Eyingthung, my children for patiently bearing all the worst moments during the course of the Research study with love and seemingly boundless faith; I could not have done this without you.

Last but not the least I thank and praise the Almighty God for His unfailing love and faithfulness in my life

(N. Renthungo Jungio)
